Shoot To Kill Order Stops Prison Revolt

Rioters Quit Meekly After Night of Terror, Damage in Nebraska

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — A 12-hour prison rebellion at the Nebraska State Penitentiary collapsed today when armed troopers and National Guardsmen marched into the cell block with orders to shoot to kill if necessary. No shots were fired.

Gov. Victor Anderson said about 225 prisoners who had set fire to six prison shops and spent the night smashing furniture and equipment in their cell block offered "no difficulty at all" after Warden Joseph Bovey told them at 6 a.m. to be back in their cells within two minutes or the troopers would shoot.

Three Convicts Hurt

When the troopers and guardsmen marched in to the cell block they found all prisoners within their cells.

Shortly afterward Jack Stover, 64, an inmate, was carried out on a stretcher. Bovey said he had been attacked in his cell and other inmates apparently had tried to kill him, then set fire to the mattress and bedding in the cell. The governor said Stover was in such condition when officers found him that he was first thought dead. Stover was serving a three-year term for grand larceny.

Bovey said two other inmates were beaten by fellow convicts Tuesday evening and were removed to the hospital where their condition was reported today as "fair."

Four or five of the prisoners involved in the rioting were among the eight prisoners who seized two guards last March and holed up in the security building for 3½ days before they were starved out.

Damage Less Than Feared

Both Gov. Anderson and Bovey said the damage from the fire was not as great as had been feared. Three buildings joined together which housed the maintenance shop, also referred to as the novelty shop, canning factory and machine shop were virtually destroyed but they were scheduled for razing and concrete blocks for the new buildings already were lined up beside them.

The new furniture factory, which replaced one burned about eight years ago, and the inmates store, a building about the size of

SAYS PROBE HELPS BLACKLISTING OF ACTORS. Elliott Sullivan, 48-year-old actor appearing as a witness before the House Un-American Activities Committee at Federal Court in New York, waves arm during appearance. Sullivan, who did not invoke the Fifth Amendment, challenged the committee's right and power to question him about his political associations. He said the probe has been helping in the blacklisting of actors for political reasons. With him is his attorney, Bella Abzug.

Storm Does Surprisingly Little Damage

Wind Fast Dropping In Velocity; May Sink To Gale Force Tonight

WILMINGTON, N. C. (AP)—Hurricane Diane, churning menacingly eight days up from the tropics, hit the North Carolina coast today but did relatively little damage.

She pushed into central North Carolina with falling force. The Weather Bureau said she would have 60-mile-an-hour winds by the time she reached the Raleigh-Durham area. Her route, northwestward, would carry her on into Virginia tonight.

'Miraculously Light'

The office of North Carolina Gov. Luther Hodges said scattered and "very preliminary" reports indicated damage along the beaches was "almost miraculously light."

This fourth hurricane of the season made her central landfall at this southeastern North Carolina river port. Her force was blunted as she moved on a northwestward course over land toward northwestern Virginia.

Even before Diane came to the mainland her one-time 115-mile-an-hour core winds had fallen to gusts of 100. Maximum winds clocked here were 74 m.p.h.

The Weather Bureau said the storm would move into northwestern Virginia early Thursday with winds abated to 20 to 30 miles an hour.

At Carolina Beach, N. C., on a peninsula south of Wilmington, waves washed away several feet of the beach and pounded the buildings in the boardwalk area. Water flooded streets and washed across from the ocean to the yacht basin. But observers said the damage there was not as serious as that caused by Connie.

Waves Damage Houses

At Atlantic Beach, to the northeast, many houses were seriously damaged by waves.

Hurricane winds, 75 miles or higher, were recorded along the North Carolina coast with gusts up to 95 miles at Southport, N. C.

While the hurricane was losing force, the Weather Bureau warned coastal sections to continue to all precautions against dangerous winds and high tides until both subside during the day.

Central and eastern North Carolina and Virginia should expect strong to gale winds and heavy rains as the hurricane moved northward, the Weather Bureau said.

Before the storm hit land, hurricane force winds extended far ahead of the storm center and gales ranged up to 250 miles out.

TELLS HIS STORY. Sgt. James Gallagher of Brooklyn leaves courtroom at Governors Island in New York after denying at his own general court martial that he was responsible for the deaths of three fellow Americans in a Korean prisoner of war camp in 1951. Following him is assistant defense counsel Capt. George B. Barrett.

Ex-Prisoner's Court-Martial Is Nearing End

Sgt. Gallagher Denies Collaborating With His Captors, Killing Men

NEW YORK, (AP)—The court-martial of Sgt. James C. Gallagher, 23, accused of collaborating with the Reds and of unpremeditated murder of three fellow prisoners in North Korea, is expected to end today.

The tall, red-blond Brooklyn soldier completed his own defense testimony Tuesday. He denied causing the deaths of three other prisoners and said much of the previous testimony was mistaken in alleging that he curried favor with Communist captors.

He said mistaken impressions probably stemmed from his general unpopularity in the POW camp. "The men just didn't like me," he stated.

After he left the stand, a number of prosecution rebuttal witnesses were called. One of them, Marine Sgt. Troy Williford, 25, now stationed at Norfolk, Va., said Gallagher had left his squad to spend a month at the Chinese regimental headquarters in a "voluntary study group."

Williford also said Gallagher had written pro-Communist articles for publication and received prizes for them. Gallagher had denied these allegations, to which others had testified earlier.

Emuel Turner, 22, Evarts, Ky., said Gallagher had kicked him when he tried to get a pair of trousers from a bannister at Gallagher's hut. When defense counsel suggested he might have been caught stealing, Turner answered: "I didn't have any pants. Gallagher had about six pair hanging up there."

Routes Announced For New Bus Lines

Buses will run over Marion streets again starting Thursday morning. The vehicles were brought here Tuesday afternoon by officials and drivers of the new Marion Bus Lines which will operate the service in the city.

Three of the buses are now parked in front of the Marion County Courthouse. The fourth is at the home of Walter Christian of 260 Latourette St. and will be used as a standby vehicle in case of emergency.

CHRISTIAN IS the new operator of the Marion Bus Lines. He leased the four vehicles from the Springfield City Lines which operated the buses here until July 31, when it quit because of loss of money.

The new operator has worked out his schedule and made a few minor changes in the four routes to be run here. First buses will leave the courthouse about 11:10 Thursday morning.

Christian plans to bring in a fifth bus in the next two weeks to help handle the school children who will return to classes in three weeks.

There have been no changes made in the old E. Center St. route or in the south loop. There have been minor changes made in the W. Center St. and north loop routes.

The W. Center St. bus will travel on Sheridan Rd. instead of Maynard Dr., while the North loop will be routed over N. Main St. instead of Oak St. The loop bus will pass in front of the W. Center St. shopping center on its return run from the south loop.

The E. Center St. route follows: start in front of the Midway Restaurant; east to Grand Ave., south to Indiana Ave., east to Kensington Place, north to E. Center St. and west to the courthouse.

War of Nerves Waged In English-Irish Dispute

LONDON (AP) — Irish nationalists waged a war of nerves today against British authorities combing the country for terrorists who raided an army depot last week. Anonymous telephone calls warned police of more raids on military camps throughout Britain. Detectives and army agents hurried to each reported target but all the calls and rumors proved false.

9 Other Counselors Cleared in Death of Michigan Boy Scout

MUSKEGON, Mich. (AP) —Police said they would question a soldier from Fort Riley, Kan., today in the slaying of 12-year-old Peter Gorham.

And they planned a showup of Camp Wabaningo personnel for a woman who reported seeing "a boy like Peter" talking to a motorist the day the Evanston, Ill., Boy Scout vanished.

Vanishes On Hike

Peter vanished July 5 while on a hike at the Duck Lake Scout Camp. His body was found Sunday five miles from the camp area. He had been shot through the head with a small caliber bullet.

Prosecutor Robert Cavanaugh said the soldier, whom he identified only as from Texas and a member of the special engineer corps' camouflage division at Fort Riley, was a counselor at the camp from June 27 to July 11 while on furlough.

The showup was planned for Mrs Elsie Farrell who lives near the camp, 12 miles north of Muskegon. She reported July 7 she saw a boy she said was "like Peter" talking two days before to a motorist. Police are seeking the driver of a blue car who they believe talked to Peter about a half an hour after the youngster disappeared.

Positive Witness

Capt. LeRoy Hunt, who is heading the state police investigation in the boy's death, described Mrs. Farrell as a "positive witness."

"I'm sure if she sees the man she'll be able to point him out," Hunt said.

In Evanston, Frederick A. Gorman, Peter's father, said it was his opinion that "no person connected with the camp had anything

First Witness To Admit It

Veteran Actor Confesses Former Red Membership

NEW YORK (AP) — George Hall, veteran actor, today told the House Un-American Activities Committee that he once was a card-carrying member of the Communist party.

Hall, the 12th witness before the committee in its New York hearings into alleged Communist infiltration into show business, was the first to acknowledge former Communist affiliation.

Quit Party in 1947

He said he was active in the party only for about nine months, although he was a member from about July or August 1946 through 1947.

Hall, a naturalized citizen who was born in Toronto, told the committee he was a member of the Communist party while he was appearing in the Broadway production "Call Me Mister."

"No one persuaded me to join the Communist party—this blunder was mine," Hall told the committee under questioning.

He testified he came to the United States in 1938 and was naturalized in Waco, Tex., in 1943 while serving with the U.S. Army. He said his military service covered the period from 1942 to 1946, that he had been a professional actor since 1946.

He said he had appeared on television and made numerous appearances on radio "mostly in soap operas."

5th Amendment Cited

Three of Tuesday's witnesses cited the Fifth Amendment of the Constitution, which protects a person from being forced to give self-incriminating testimony. They were Lee Hays, a stout singer of folk songs; Mrs. Irma Jurist, a composer; and Mrs. Susan d'Usseau, artist and wife of playwright Arnaud d'Usseau.

Hays told the committee about his folk singing and said he had to take odd jobs to eke out a living. He said he used to sing bass with a now-defunct quartet known as The Weavers. He stopped answering questions, however, when Committee Counsel Frank Tavenner asked about his alleged connections with two organizations called People's Songs and People's Artists.

Hays, who Tavenner said is not to be confused with a stage, screen and television actor also named Lee Hays, declined to say whether he is a Communist.

Has Written Music

Mrs. Jurist, who said she now devotes herself to her family, was clearly uncomfortable and nervous while testifying. She told of various night club engagements and of being an accompanist to the late Gertrude Lawrence.

She also said she had written music for two shows, "Caesar and Cleopatra" and "Alive and Kicking."

When asked if she had written music for the film "Dollar Patri-

Clinton County Air Base Plans Big Expansion

WILMINGTON, Ohio (AP) — The Clinton County Air Force Base, a permanent air reserve training base, is planning a $2,900,000 expansion program in the next two years, says Col. Delwin D. Bentley.

Col. Bentley is commander of the 2252nd Air Reserve Flying Center, one of two such permanent reserve training bases in the country. He said a new administration building costing $679,000, a 200-man dormitory at $308,000, a dining hall for $105,000 a new crash and fire station at $46,000, and expansion of parking aprons and taxi runways in the amount of $1,578,000 are planned.

Most of the work will be carried out next year, but planning already is under way.

Col. Bentley said it is hoped the state highway department will cooperate in rerouting Ohio 73 around the air base in 1957 to permit extension of the main runway.

The AFB now employes about 200 civilians. Payrolls have increased about $25,000 in the last month, the colonel added.

Truck Driver Killed

XENIA, Ohio (AP)—Truck driver John R. O'Neill, 21, of Springfield, was killed today when his vehicle failed to make a turn on Trebein Rd. west of here and overturned. It was Greene County's 19th traffic death this year.

Atom Workers in Russia Join Ranks of Elite Labor

By FRANK CAREY
Associated Press Science Reporter

GENEVA (AP) — Atomic workers are forging into the ranks of the Soviet Union's elite labor — with some getting a six-hour day and up to a month's vacation with pay. The holiday may be at bargain rates if the worker spends it in a sanatorium or rest home.

Russian scientist A. A. Letavet told the atoms-for-peace conference today of these and other steps to guard the health of Russians exposed to atomic radiation on their jobs.

Six-Day Week

But don't envy the Soviet atomic laborer too much. He works a six-day week, in contrast to the 40-hour, five-day week American experts reported their labor force works.

Letavet said Russia has set a "permissible dose" of radiation—the amount a worker can take in a day without harm—at five-hundredths of a roentgen. (The roentgen is the international unit for measurement of radiation.)

With a six-day week, the Soviets' safe maximum works out to the same three-tenths of a roentgen per week the United States, Britain and some other countries allow. An American scientist reported today that there was "little difference" at such low levels of radiation how the weekly dose was distributed.

U. S. Policy Explained

Letavet said not all atomic workers get the six-hour day and longer vacation time, just those on certain jobs where the radiation standard might be exceeded.

An official of the American Atomic Energy Commission told a reporter if the radiation to which U.S. atomic workers were exposed reach three-tenths roentgen before the week was out, such workers were immediately assigned to another job away from any possible exposure for the rest of the week.

"It's seldom necessary to do that," he added. "With the protective measures we employ, we've

Strike Still On in Calcutta

Indian Rioting in Protest Of Portuguese Dies Out

NEW DELHI, (AP)—Most of India returned to normal today but a general strike continued in Calcutta, the nation's largest city, in protest against the killing of Indians who marched into Portuguese India Monday.

First reports from Calcutta, home of two million Indians at the country's eastern edge, made no mention of any violence today. Demonstrators there Tuesday sacked the Portuguese consulate and halted all but essential services.

Other Cities Quiet

New Delhi, Bombay, Nagpur, Hyderabad and other large cities were reported quiet again today after anti-Portuguese riots and strikes in which nearly 100 persons were injured. The worst violence was in Bombay, a headquarters for the Indian "peaceful invasion" Monday of the three small Portuguese territories on the west coast.

Prime Minister Nehru offered his "deep regrets and apologies" today to the foreign missions attacked in the rioting. In addition to the Portuguese consulates in Bombay and Calcutta, the office of the deputy British high commissioner in Bombay was attacked because its staff refused to lower its flag in mourning for those killed by the Portuguese.

Other Diplomats Concerned

Nehru told Parliament his government "is prepared to pay full compensation" to the foreign governments for any damage done.

Authoritative sources said that before Nehru spoke, British, American and other foreign diplomats had expressed concern over the incidents in informal talks with Indian Foreign Ministry officials.

American sources in the capital said the U.S. Information Services office in Bombay was stoned by the mob when it refused to lower the U.S. flag in honor or the Indian dead.

They said there were no injuries

Council Asked To Hike Wages

Municipal Employes Seek Various Boosts

BUCYRUS—A wave of petitions for wage increases for city employes was presented to city council at its meeting Tuesday night following the initial petition for a 15 per cent hike in pay, handed to council at its Aug. 2 meeting by the police department.

Biggest pay boost is asked by the 19 employes of the street and garbage collection departments. They are seeking a 25 per cent raise in pay along with pay for working on holidays.

Ten employes of the water department and water plant, including Waterworks Supt. Roy Riley, are seeking a 15 per cent pay increase, the same as is asked by five employes of the sewage disposal plant.

Fifty-seven employes of City Hospital, including Supt. James B. Mitchell, also submitted a petition requesting wage hikes and outlining a proposed pay schedule. The salary of the superintendent would be raised from $363 a month to $487; the director of nurses would receive $410 instead of the present $293; surgery nurses would get $260 against the present $249; floor nurses, $249 from $240; cooks would receive from $221 to $260 instead of the present $187 to $200 and the office manager would be raised from $240 to $305.

In presenting the proposed pay schedule, the hospital employes' petition stated that the schedule would eliminate inequities in the present salary scale. The petition also cites a rise in the cost of living since the last pay boost and states that the present pay schedule is lower than in a majority of nearby hospitals of comparable size.

City employes received their last wage increase in July, 1953 when most municipal workers received an increase of $20 a month.

The petitions were referred to council's finance committee, which is headed by C. Victor Vollrath.

Assault Charge Filed

Police this morning arrested a Kenton Ave. man who was charged with assault and battery. At 4:57 a.m. today they arrested Harry Reece of 912 Keton Ave. on a warrant signed by Ella Moore. He will appear in Municipal Court later to answer the charge.

Motorist Arrested

A Columbus man was arrested by state patrolmen from the Marion post Tuesday afternoon and charged with drunken driving. Patrolmen arrested Carl E. Ovler, 38, of Columbus on Route 23 at 2:59 p.m. Tuesday. He is to appear later in Municipal Court to answer the charges.

Akron Desperado Put On 'Most Wanted' List

WASHINGTON (AP)—The FBI today put on its list of "10 most wanted men" Daniel Abram Everhart, 30-year-old Akron, O., robber described as desperate and habitually armed.

Everhart is sought in connection with a series of holdups and burglaries in Akron last January. Everhart escaped in June 1954 from Ohio State Penitentiary's honor farm at London.

Everhart is of medium height and slender build, with brown hair and eyes. The name "Betty" is tattooed on his outer left forearm.

Ike and Grandson David Try Their Fishing Luck

FRASER, Colo. (AP)—A small boy and his grandfather — President Eisenhower and 7-year-old David—were set to try their fishing luck together today.

For David, a snub-nosed miniature of the President, the fishing expedition high in the Rocky Mountains was something brand new. He never has cast a dry fly for trout before.

Waited For The Day

The President, an old hand, has been waiting a long time to show his only grandson how it's done.

Eisenhower motored here Tuesday from the Denver Summer White House, 70 miles to the southeast across the Continental Divide. David arrived in the early evening from a boys camp at Estes Park, Colo.

The President and David are living together in a new cottage, with all modern conveniences, at the mountain-rimmed ranch of Aksel Nielsen, an old Denver friend of Eisenhower.

Nielsen has built a pond about an acre in size and stocked it with 412 rainbow trout weighing about a pound apiece. Mayor Charles Clayton of Fraser told newsmen Nielsen paid $1.25 a pound for the fish. Nearby St. Louis creek has also been well stocked.

To Stay Until Sunday

Eisenhower and David plan to stay here until Sunday, then drive back to Denver to the home of the President's mother-in-law Mrs. John S. Doud. David probably will stay on there with his grandfather for awhile. The boy's home is at Ft. Belvoir, Va., near Washington.

On arrival in Fraser, the President got an enthusiastic welcome on this tiny village's main street, where just about the entire population of 350, plus vacationers in the area, turned out to wish him well.

Employe at Depot Wins Cash Award

A suggestion which led to a savings of over $1,2000 for the government at the Marion Engineer Depot has earned an employe of the Depot a $55 award.

Marion K. Wick of near Marion, an employe in the inspection branch of the maintenance division at the Depot, will receive a cash award Thursday morning from Col. J. Arthur Hamilton, commanding officer of the Depot.

Wick's suggestion called for the substitution of standard manufacturers' parts for specially manufactured parts for the modification of electric generators in the maintenance repair shop. The suggestion has resulted in improved operations and the financial savings.

Wick was assisted in drawing up the specifications for his suggestion by James Hardy, a supervisor at the Depot.

The award will be made by Col. Hamilton in a brief ceremony in the maintenance division at 9:30 Thursday morning. Fellow employes of the division will be present for the ceremony.

USDA Cheese Payments Are Held Improper

WASHINGTON (AP) — The comptroller general ruled today that the Agriculture Department made "unauthorized and improper" payments of two million dollars to private companies for cheese last year.

Chairman Fountain (D-NC) of an investigating House Government operations subcommittee, promptly wrote to Secretary of Agriculture Benson, suggesting he recover this money "which was paid out illegally."

The payments were to cheese distributors in March and April 1954, and involved some 90 million pounds of cheese, Fountain said.

Committee officials said about 100 companies were involved in the payments. They said the biggest sums were about $700,000 paid to the Kraft Foods Co. and $300,000 to the Borden Co.

Among other firms receiving payments they listed C. J. Berst and Co., Portage, Wis., $150,000; National Biscuit Co., $108,000; A & P Stores, $93,000; Superior Cheese Co. (a Safeway affiliate) $74,000; and H. J. Heinz Co., Pittsburgh, Pa., $24,000.

On April 1, 1954 Benson lowered the government support rate for cheese from 90 to 75 per cent of parity.

The Agriculture Department said that, previously cheese distributors, seeing that the support price was going to drop, had in mind putting all they could into government hands before the April 1 deadline.

In order to keep the cheese in channels where it would be readily available to consumers, the department said, it arranged "purchase-resale transactions" under which it paid distributors for the cheese at the old support rate and sold it back to them at the lower new rate — without the cheese actually leaving the distributors warehouses.

A department spokesman said its buying price before April 1 was 37 cents a pound, while its after-April 1 selling price was 34¼ cents a pound, except in East and West Coast states where it was 35¼ cents a pound.

Fountain, who conducted hearings on the matter last June and July, said there is no question but that the transactions were "illegal" and "indicate very poor judgment on the part of those responsible."

Investigators To Check On Salk Black Market

WASHINGTON (AP) — Forty-eight government investigators are being assigned to halt any possible "black market" in polio vaccine, but they will not check on what doctors do with it.

A spokesman for the Food and Drug Administration conceded Tuesday there have been a few cases of doctors charging steep prices and inoculating children outside the 5-9-year priority group.

"But these are cases of professional ethics and not a violation of the federal Food, Drug and Cosmetics Act," he said, and will be left to the states.

CARRY STOLEN GUNS OUT OF LONDON SHOP. Shirt-sleeved London police carry a crate of stolen arms from a derelict shop. The cache is believed part of the guns and ammunition hijacked from an armory by the Irish Republican army. The police had watched this shop all night and most of a day to arrest anyone who appeared to pick up the loot.

a double-garage, also were burned. There was extensive damage to the chapel and to one corner of the dining hall.

The total loss was estimated at between $50,000 and $100,000. The warden said less than half the men employed at various jobs inside the prison walls worked in the buildings destroyed.

No guards were injured. The governor attributed this to the fact they were withdrawn from the yards at once when the prisoners demanded that two men placed in segregation Tuesday be released. The warden declined to identify the two men.

The men sent word they wanted to see Bovey and Col. B. B. Albert, penal director. "We knew what they wanted us for and we didn't go," said Bovey.

The governor said he had been informed the riot had started over a feeling by some prisoners that two of their number had been mistreated by being placed in segregation "for failure to work."

Second Riot in Days

It was the second riot in U. S. prisons in recent days, following one in the Washington State Penitentiary.

A demonstration that started just after supper set off the night of smoke, flames and terror within the prison. The violence was not confined alone to fire and smashing of cell block furnishings but extended to sluggings of prisoners by other prisoners.

Two inmates were slugged on the head by other inmates who held a grudge against their victims. Both were hospitalized. No guards were listed as injured.

A. C. Eichberg, administrative assistant to Gov. Anderson, described the start of the trouble this way:

"Right after dinner about 200 prisoners refused to return to their cells. Some 340 others went peacefully, but those who refused to go scattered into the prison yard and into the shops."

The shop building runs parallel to two cell blocks and is connected in various ways. Those who scattered into the shop building, Eichberg said, started a fire in the furniture shop — most vulnerable of the shops to flames.

Then they fled to join the hollering crowd in the prison yard. Eichberg said prison officials immediately called in the yard guards to prevent their being seized as hostages and sent a hurry-up call for state safety patrol reinforcements.

As the state troopers rolled into the area, a fast job of rounding up those in the yard began. Eichberg said many obeyed a command to return voluntarily or be taken by force. Others tried to hide but were flushed out and herded into the cell block.

During the time this action went on, companies of Lincoln firemen waited outside the walls. With the last prisoner herded out of the yard, the firemen came in to start their fight against flames that had been spreading through six shops against the efforts of a small force of prison workers.

Burned were the furniture, canning, tin, novelty, tool and machine shops.

Crestline Council Hears Request For Employes' Wage Increases

CRESTLINE—Mayor Nelson Lee was granted permission to advertise for bids for the scraping and painting of the outside woodwork on the city building at the meeting of village council Monday night.

Council agreed to have four-way stop signs placed at the intersections nearest all Crestline schools on a trial basis.

Complaints were received that street crossings over the New York Central and Pennsylvania Railroads are in bad condition. Miss Marie Schill, village clerk, was instructed to write officials of these railroads in regards to repair of the crossings.

Presents Three Requests

Fire Chief Ruben Saum placed three formal requests before Council: asking approval of hiring Glen Miller as fireman, which was granted; the clarification of the proper way to dispose of checks received from the Crawford Mutual Fire Insurance Co.; and a $30 a month pay raise for village employes. No action was taken on this request.

Council and the board of public affairs agreed to split the cost of purchasing a sewer cleaner from the Hughs Supply Co. in Mansfield for $702.75.

Discuss Sewer Plan

A general discussion was held in regard to a three-step plan of Crestline sewer extension. The first step would provide a 42-inch line from the Sandusky River to Westgate Drive, the second step from Westgate to Chnk Blvd., and the third step from that point to the Henry St., vicinity. Blueprints of the N. High St. area and present sewers were presented by Kenneth Shaffer, village engineer.

The Morton Trailer Park has been notified that the park must be connected with the city sewer lines so that adequate service will be available.

Other items of business included approval of the payroll totaling $2,298.81.

The bodies of Lee Andrews, 2, and his brother Lewis, 5, were discovered by their mother when she opened the refrigerator in a vacant first-floor apartment of their north Philadelphia tenement.

The mother, Mrs. Veronica Andrews, 21, had just returned from a police station where she reported the boys missing.

Alaska Lists Big Caribou Increases

FAIRBANKS, Alaska (UP) — The caribou population of Alaska is showing an amazing increase, U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service officials report.

Service director Clarence Rhode estimated there were approximately 250,000 caribou inhabiting the territory. Rhode recently completed an aerial survey of the herds in the Arctic.

The biggest herd seen consisted of more than 60,000 animals. It was near the Alaska - Canadian border near Aklavik. A herd of approximately 50,000 animals was seen in the Noatak and Kobuk river area and it was heading for higher ground in the Brooks Mountains where calves are born in the early summer.

"We don't know the exact reason, for the growth," Rhode said. "Possibly it is due to the fact that we are on rising side of a natural game cycle.

"More probably, it is the result of intensive wolf hunting in northern Alaska."

One of FBI's 10 'Most Wanted' Men Arrested

NEW CASTLE, Pa. (AP)—State police and FBI agents today arrested Charles Falzone, 42, one of the FBI's 10 "most wanted" fugitives. The arrest ended an eight-year manhunt.

Falzone was seized at nearby New Bedford where the FBI said he had been living since Sept. 1947, under the name of James Lavelle. He is wanted in connection with a payroll robbery in Tonawanda, N. Y.

The arrest followed a tip Tuesday from a person who recognized Falzone from an FBI poster.

The FBI said Falzone did not resist arrest, although "surrounded in his suburban home by a large cache of pistols and rifles." An FBI spokesman said the fugitive had 15 pistols, 7 rifles and a shotgun, some of them loaded. He was said to have told arresting officers he is a "gun collector."

The FBI said Falzone, who was married a month after the $6,000 payroll robbery for which he was indicted, has been working as a carpenter at a sheet steel manufacturing plant in Campbell, Ohio.

The FBI said Falzone was indicted in Buffalo Nov. 26, 1947, charged with the armed robbery the previous May of the payroll of a Tonawanda boat company for which he worked at the time.

According to the FBI, Falzone has a police record dating back to 1932. The FBI said he has been convicted of armed robbery, larceny and burglary and was twice paroled — from the Massachusetts State Prison in 1944.

"I think this is a perfectly dreadful question, I really do. And, as before, I respectfully invoke the fifth amendment."

She also declined to answer when asked if she is a Communist party member.

Mrs. d'Usseau told the committee she had nothing to do with the theater and thought she had been called by mistake in this probe. Committee Chairman Francis E. Walter (D-Pa) said she was to be questioned anyway.

She was asked if it were true that she tried to get a Hollywood writer, Stanley Roberts, to join the Communist party. To this and other questions Mrs. d'Usseau declined to answer.

Like two witnesses the day before, actor Elliott Sullivan Tuesday declined to answer questions but specifically said he was not invoking the Fifth Amendment.

He challenged the committee's right to query him about "my associations, my thinking and my personal beliefs."

A spectator at the hearings, which are scheduled to continue until Friday, was financier Bernard Baruch. He shook hands with Walter, who said, "To have you here encouraging me means a great deal."

When asked by reporters what he thought of witnesses who refused to answer the committee's questions, Baruch replied:

Any person who has nothing to fear can answer anything. In this great country of ours, the only thing you have to fear is guilt."

Pointe-Au-Baril
Ontario, Canada
August 15, 1955

L-K Confidential

Canada Beautiful

We are now in one of the most picturesque areas that has ever been our pleasure to behold. Pointe-Au-Baril is situated on the north shore of Georgian Bay in the heart of the 30,000 island area. And we are situated approximately 15 miles out in Georgian Bay from Pointe-Au-Baril on one of those islands. The islands range in size from ½ of an acre, up to approximately 2000 acres. While they are almost all what appears to be solid granite rock, they are generally rather heavily wooded. Most of the trees are pine, with a spattering of birch, maple, oak, wild cherry, etc. Many of the trees appear to be growing out of areas that look like solid rock, however they are actually coming from small soiled areas in the rock that have developed over a long span of time.

The water surrounding the islands is almost as pure as water can be. In fact from a bacteriological standpoint we are told that from thousands of tests being made every year the water proves to be more pure than that from the hydrants of many of our cities. So peculiar as it seems we drink the same water that we swim and fish in. Georgian Bay as a rule runs very deep, and the water takes on a greenish cast, which on a bright sunshiny day like today with the blue skies, a smackering of cumulus clouds and the wooded islands makes a mighty picturesque view, an everyday reminder that the great over all Architect really know how to design beauty of the rarest. Most of the larger islands are inhabited by such wild animals as deer, bear, porcupine, beaver, mink, racoon and an occasional moose. While most sections of Canada are inhabited by wolves and fox because of their dislike for water they are rarely seen through the island area.

The hot humid weather such as we usually experience in the heat of the summer through our home area, almost never frequents the Georgian Bay area. Even when the mercury climbs up in the 80's or 90's through the day, the nights are refreshingly cool. It's a rare summer night indeed when you can sleep comfortably without a couple blankets.

Folks, here is something I would like to have you try this evening. Why not get out the family car, load up the whole family and drive down to the L-K at 449 W Center St. for supper. You don't need to dress up, you can eat right in the comfort of your car. Mother is bound to enjoy getting away from cooking and washing dishes tonight and generally the kids appreciate good hamburgers more than a chicken dinner. For Dad we suggest an "L-K Oh Boy" and Mom an "L-K Oh Girl. Try it tonight and let me know what you think of the idea. L of L-K

Popular Fallacy

By George Sokolsky

SOKOLSKY

It is only too usual for Americans to accept the doctrine that they do not know as much as Europeans. Knowledge is individual, not collective, and it is quite impossible to say that Englishmen generally know more about colonialism than Americans or Indians generally. An expert on this subject could well be a Swiss or a Finn. Actually, on this particular subject, there are no experts.

E. T. Weir, who manufactures steel but likes to dabble in statesmanship, wrote in a pamphlet:

"Because for centuries European countries have been so heavily dependent on foreign trade and have had colonial interests, the people of Europe have a greater knowledge of world conditions and are much more sensitive to them than is the case in the United States. I have a profound respect for the opinions of my European friends because I have found their analyses of situations borne out to a remarkable extent."

THESE FRIENDS are obviously mostly British, and if it is true that they know so much, why is it that, first, they got themselves into such a cramped position in the world since 1912; secondly, why have they lost their great empire; thirdly, why have they become dependent upon the United States; fourthly, why are they cringing before the Russian bear?

Somewhere along the line, between 1912 and today, their great knowledge and know-how in international relations failed them. As early as 1917, they misunderstood the Russian Revolution; as early as 1925, they misunderstood the Chinese Revolution; they failed to understand the situation in Iran and were rescued by Herbert Hoover, Jr., an American.

ACTUALLY, BRITAIN'S difficulty is that the daring thinkers of policy of the period of empire-building, from Elizabeth I to Edward VII inclusive, have not been matched since Sir Edward Grey sent his country into World War I, which it is difficult not to accept as an error of judgment from the present vantage point.

Today we know that every effort should have been made to localize the Balkan quarrel and the assassination of the archduke at Sarajevo.

Up to that time, Great Britain managed the balance of power in Europe with acumen, brilliance and success.

Once Great Britain went to war, the balance was tipped and Europe fell into a chaos from which it has not yet recovered. It is true that Sir Anthony Eden has been attempting to restore Great Britain's role as the manipulator of the balance of power and it was undoubtedly his hope to be able to achieve that role at Geneva.

HE FAILED, first, because the United States is not interested in the balance of power in Europe but seeks peace in the world, and secondly, because Soviet Russia prefers India to be elevated in international relations, even to the position of Great Britain.

Prof. Hans J. Morgenthau makes this point concerning the "balance of power":

"The balancer is in a position of 'splendid isolation.' It is isolated by its own choice; for, while the two scales of the balance must vie with each other to add its weight to theirs in order to gain the overweight necessary for success, it must refuse to enter into permanent ties with either side . . ."

Obviously, Great Britain is not in that position of splendid isolation. It is definitely allied to one side of the equation, namely, to the United States. It is not only allied but it remains economically and militarily dependent. As long as Great Britain remains in that position, it cannot play the additional role of the "balancer" in world affairs.

IF KHRUSHCHEV and Bulganin were as cruel to Eden at Geneva as Roosevelt was to Churchill at Yalta, it was because Great Britain had lost the key position in the balance of power which it had held for about three centuries.

To return to the question of who knows what, there is no evidence that Europeans generally and the British are better informed than we are at this particular moment in world history. Nor is there any evidence that their guesses are better than ours.

What the present situation does display is the appearance of Marxian morals in the world, totally different from Christian morals, and because of that violence of difference, understanding comes very slowly and without much satisfaction to either side.

The world does not stand in balance, but its distortions are temporarily frozen.

Tottering Thais

By Victor Riesel

BANGKOK

Despite our meetings with the Sovietized Chinese in Geneva, their chiefs in Peiping have intensified, not eased, the Communist campaign to stir hundreds of millions of Asiatic workers into violence against the U. S. and our few friends in the Orient.

VICTOR RIESEL

From Rawalpindi and Lahore to Calcutta and Singapore, Communist agents use the most skillful propaganda, espionage and sabotage techniques to seize control of unions, start riots, turn religious fanatics against each other, burn houses and factories, and then blame it all on U.S. "interference."

They mock us. For example, on the very day the U.S first met with the Communist Chinese in Geneva in an effort to outlaw violence, the Communist Chinese Gen. Chen Keng, vice chief of staff, in Peiping, told an audience that the Chinese People's Army would "liberate" Formosa by arms. He charged that we were "still occupying our (Chinese Communist) territory. . . (and) threatening the security of China."

SUCH BRAVADO has its effect even on our friends. You feel its impact even here in Siam, whose military officers we train. Here, if you wish, you can see a fairyland of palaces and temples and gargantuan statues to the sacred monkeys of ancient legends—and the spired building of seven canopies where Anna taught the children of the King of Siam.

But that's as far as you can see. The police state is carefully hidden. This is a dictatorship over a gentle people and a young king who writes music, plays the violin and flies in a helicopter. Behind the scense there is a struggle for power between the head of the tough national police and the army. The police control one faction in the labor movement here—and the army rules the other.

Both factions make strong statements against the Commies. They agree on literally branding any Commie they find on the wrist and deporting him. But they do nothing about the real tough underground Communist apparatus here.

THIS CHINESE Communist machine uses Bangkok as a base for many of its underground operations throughout South East Asia.

In Bangkok itself the Communists await the outbreak of fighting between the police and the army.

Then the Commies will back the faction which appears to be winning. And the world will see another Vietnam situation.

The Commies have strength inside labor here. They are powerful among the three million Chinese in Thailand. The Sovieteers are gaining power among the educated Siamese and, thereby, in political circles.

At the same time the so-called tough anti-Communist Thai government permits a big Soviet embassy to operate in this city of straw huts on stilts.

-:-

THIS EMBASSY is a center for the funneling of money, opium, and manpower into the Communist underground throughout Southeast Asia.

I was told of a terrific opium traffic which comes down from Red China and flows right on out to San Francisco.

I was told of the arrival of undercover agents from Russia, Czechoslovakia and Poland.

I was told of the use of Siam's airport and money market as two of the chief bases of operation against us and the British in this part of the world.

The Thai officials who make so many tough noises against Communism know of all this. Yet they permit it to continue.

-:-

THEY FEEL NOW that the U.S will not stand up against Red China and why should they get caught in the middle.

Sure they permit us to run a television station here to preach democracy. But there are only 1,000 receiving sets, and these are in the hands of the well-to-do who are with us anyway. This number will increase by some 6,000 sets a year, and we're doing a terrific job in this area.

But we're losing the working people—the millions who are being reached by the Soviets through their underground apparatus which funnels through here.

We've already lost the working people and their unions in Indonesia (a land of 90 million people which may soon go Communist) and in Malaya where the dominant party, based on the workers, wants amnesty for the Communist guerrillas fighting in the Malayan jungles. We've lost labor support in Singapore and in most of India and Japan.

WHAT MANY PEOPLE back home don't realize yet is that the unions in this pprt of the world are the backbone of political parties and these parties have a tremendous voice in their governments.

True this is 12,000 miles from home. But because we once ignored these "funny" sounding names and thought Asia was just for Rudyard Kipling, many a kid died, carbine in hand, not too far from here. And many a GI is sweating it out in grim military bases up the line from here instead of being home.

Let's just keep ignoring all this and there'll be a lot more sweating it out and a lot more dying. Grim, but true!

Make a Million

By Ed Creagh

WASHINGTON (AP) — Want to make a million dollars?

There's a new pocket-size book out which tells exactly how to do it. Sounds as if the formula might work, too, if any of us had the sense and stick-to-it-iveness to follow it. A little luck might help some, too.

Marvin Small is the author of this book, titled "How to Make More Money." (Pocket books, 35 cents.) He made enough money himself out of such things as deodorants to retire at 45.

Basically, Small's formula is so simple that you wonder why he wrote a book about it. "Find out what a lot of people want and then give it to them" is about what it adds up to—which sounds pretty much like an old wheeze about building a better mousetrap.

BUT SMALL goes on to cite case histories—such as that of Leo Gerstenzang, who watched his wife bathe the baby, saw she was having trouble twisting cotton around the end of a toothpick, and invented Q-tips then and there.

(Small doesn't point it up, but there's another lession here: Always let your wife bathe the baby. If Gerstenzang had said, "Here, darling, let me do that," the chances are dim he would have the high Dun & Bradstreet rating he enjoys today.)

"All right," you say, "but this fellow Gerstenzang must have had a knack for inventing things. Me, I'm not smart enough to put a box of paper matches under a wobbly table leg. Doesn't that bar me from the millionaire class?"

Not on your life. Capitalize on your own defect. Small tells the story of a young New York East Sider who was so gawky he couldn't get out of the way of his own feet. But one day a brash young lady dragged him out on a dance floor and the next thing he knew he was dancing like Arthur Murray.

This is not too surprising, really, because the young man was Arthur Murray. He figured that, by golly, if he could learn to dance anybody could—if properly taught. And he became the man who did the teaching, at a highly satisfactory profit.

Well, now, says Small, there's an old Chinese saying to the effect of "Fu yu hu yu wu tzu su," which he translates as "papa's having and mama's having is not the same as having it oneself." In other words: More power to Murray and Gerstenzang—but how do I get in on the act

—:—

SMALL KNEW you were going to ask that, and he has an answer ready—borrowed, he cheerfully acknowledges, from advertising tycoon Alex Osborn. It's a little game called "brainstorming." You play it this way:

You look at any object—one of Murray's dance charts, for instance, or one of Gerstenzang's Q-tips. Then you ask yourself a whole series of questions about it: Is there a simpler way of doing or making this? Can it be adopted to other uses? Can it be made portable?

(Not all these questions will apply to every possible object. It's hard, for example, to imagine anything more portable than a Q-tip.)

Small provides you a whole series of such questions. He does some sample brainstorming for you. He gives you a word association scheme, and idea-stimulator check list. Plainly, if you brainstorm long enough and hard enough it's your own fault if you don't reach a point where you can paper the hall bedroom with $100 bills.

So—brainstorm away, kids. Get your idea and do something about it. Never relax. Never admit the thought of failure.

And look—when your ship comes in, remember the fellow who told you about this book, will you? I'll be brainstorming myself, but just in case anything goes wrong I could use a couple of those $100 notes.

Newsprint Mill Planned

NEW YORK (AP) — The Black-Clawson Co. of Hamilton, Ohio, an affiliate of the Parsons & Whitmore Organization (PWO) will supply machinery for Mexico's first newsprint mill. Contracts were signed yesterday for the mill to be built by PWO, U. S. pulp paper and machinery firm. The mill will cost 12 million dollars.

Woman Blames Eviction On Her Scanty Costume

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Mrs. Mary Ellen Williams, 31, says she has been ordered to vacate a housing authority apartment after paying her rent while wearing a "shortie."

She said Tuesday the bed jacket and bloomers are "a hideous looking outfit, I admit, but it's not indecent. When I was told about it, I never wore it again. You ought to see some of these women in shorts and halters."

Officials of the Allegheny Housing Authority refused to say whether their eviction order was based entirely on Mrs. Williams' attire. But they did say noise from her apartment annoyed other tenants. They set a Saturday deadline.

Mrs. Williams occupies the apartment with her 9-year-old son.

Ohioan Booked As a Stowaway

Sneaked Passage on Europe-Bound Ship

NEW YORK (AP)—John Richard Dorsey, 27, of Parma, Ohio, was taken into custody by federal officers yesterday as he embarked from the Queen Elizabeth returning from England. He was charged with taking passage of a common carrier with intent not to pay fare.

British police said Dorsey stowed away on the Queen Mary bound for England. Dorsey said he and Richard D. Martin, 27, an Ohio State University student from Euclid, Ohio, hid in the Queen Mary's theater at night. Martin, whose passage was paid, jumped overboard three miles out of Southampton and swam ashore, police said. Martin is still in Europe.

Dorsey was questioned by FBI agents when he disembarked, and released in his own recognizance and told to report to the federal building tomorrow for more questioning.

U.S. To Outline New Code for War Prisoners

Falls Between Stern Army Policy, Lenient Attitude of Air Force

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The Summer White House in Colorado and the Pentagon planned to spell out late today a new code for conduct for American servicemen who become prisoners in another war.

President Eisenhower, vacationing at Fraser, Colo., was reported ready to sign an executive order authorizing the new program.

A commission of retired senior officers and Pentagon civilians prepared a report to guide the services in training their men.

The new code is known to represent a compromise between the stern attitude of the Army and the far more lenient viewpoint of the Air Force on conduct of prisoners of war.

The commission studied cases growing out of charges that some Americans yielded to Communist pressure in North Korean camps and either signed false confessions or collaborated with the enemy to obtain better treatment for themselves.

Only the Army has actually court-martialed anybody on such charges. In eight completed cases, two men were acquitted, one officer was dismissed after a finding of guilty and five servicemen drew sentences ranging from 2 to 20 years.

An additional six court-martial cases are pending and the Army said that preliminary investigations point to the possibility of 12 other trials.

The Air Force secretly investigated 83 cases. It found no serious fault in most of these cases, but allowed seven men to resign and released three others, none of them under dishonorable conditions.

Lutherans Elect Virginia Resident

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—Malcolm L. Minnick Jr., 23, of Salem, Va., is new president of the Luther League of America.

Minnick, who succeeds John Stacy of New Springfield, Ohio, defeated Robert Beckstrom, Los Angeles in the voting by 3,000 delegates from units of the 50,000-member Lutheran youth organization.

Minnick, who plans to become a Lutheran minister, is honeymooning at the league's 60th anniversary convention. He was married Aug. 6 to Joyce Plymale also of Salem.

Three new synods were voted into league membership yesterday. They are Central States, New Jersey and Caribbean synods.

Water Storage Tower Painting Approved by Galion's Council

GALION — Passage of the ordinance for painting of the 400,000 gallon elevated water storage tower at the municipal light plant property on Primrose St. and the passage of a resolution declaring it necessary to construct a sanitary sewer on Hensley Ave. were the only measures on which action was taken by city council Tuesday night.

Reports were heard from Mayor Francis C. Schalip and Police Chief Bowers and plans made for council committees to study financing plans for paving of Wilson and McDonald avenues and to earmark funds for the operating levy which will be voted upon in November.

Pass Resolution

While the resolution was passed to pave the way for construction of a sanitary sewer on Hensley Ave., from Ottawa St. to Dawsett Rd., it was pointed out by Service Director Floyd Steffee that the street does not have water service. He questioned the adviseability of installing a sewer before the water service is provided. An ordinance must be passed, however, to proceed with the construction before work will be started.

First reading was given an ordinance which revises inlot measurements to the Nollen addition on the east side of Galion which includes the extension of E. Church and Charles Sts., north of the Erie Railroad. The plat was accepted in 1949, but is being revised with the width of the streets in the addition being increased from 40 to 50 feet.

Accept Report

By motion, council accepted the semi-annual report of the board of trustees of Galion Community Hospital which was read at a committee meeting of council Monday night.

The report of Mayor Schalip of collections made in July, totaling $691.05, was read and accepted.

Council also heard a detailed report read by Police Chief Morpartment for the past six months.

Land Purchases Called Safe for Next 20 Years

Smith Describes Time As 'Dynamic Period' In Farm Real Estate

COLUMBUS — Dr. Mervin G. Smith, chairman, Ohio State University Department of Agricultural Economics, sees the next 20 years as a dynamic period in farm real estate prices. During the two decades ahead, Smith expects many new factors to appear that should be included in a forecast of land values. But, he says, investors are safe in having strong faith in land investments.

Some factors will have inflationary influences. Others will be deflationary. Inflationary force probably will be felt as a result of population growth, a growing demand for non-farm uses of what is now farm land, and government policies.

Increased taxes will tend to be deflationary, the economist says.

Those factors which he sees as uncertain in their effect are the general economy, farm prices and incomes, and developments in technology and credit. As Smith looks at these, he predicts they probably will be more inflationary than deflationary.

Actually, Smith believes trends will vary considerably in different areas of the country and with different types of land resources. It may be more important, he says, to watch the trends within a specific area than to watch the overall trend. However, he thinks the long-time values of farm real estate will tend to rise slightly. It is on the basis of these theories that he foresees the "dynamic" character of the period ahead.

Over $2½ Million In Federal Lunch Aid Appropriated

COLUMBUS — Ohio schools will get over $2,500,000 in federal assistance under the National School Lunch Program this coming year. This announcement from the U. S. Department of Agriculture gives school officials within the state essential information upon which they may now proceed to work out the season's school lunch details.

The law requires that each dollar of federal funds disbursed by state agencies to schools this year must be matched by $3.00 from sources from within the state if the per capita income in the state equals or exceeds the national average.

Funds are apportioned on the basis of the number of children between the ages of 5 and 17, inclusive, and the need for assistance in the state as indicated by the relation of per capita income in the U. S. to that of the state.

Last year nearly two billion meals were served to 11 million children in 60 thousand participating schools throughout the nation.

The program enlarges the market for farm products, and improves the diet of the nation's school children, by helping participating schools serve nutritionally balanced lunches.

British Farmer Finds Americans Set Speedy Pace

Trainee Says Agriculture Methods Similar in Both Countries

Gaining an insight into the life of Americans this year is Simon Baile, 21-year-old English farm trainee who is spending one year on the farm of Dwight E. Heckathorn of near Kenton, president of the Marion County Farm Bureau Federation.

Baile came here in February under the American Farm Bureau Federation sponsored plan to give foreign farmers a chance to view firsthand the way of life of people in the United States.

Baile is one of 20 English young men who are in the United States under the Farm Bureau program. He will stay here until early next February when he will return to his home in Lincolnshire County.

He is one of seven foreign men staying on farms in Ohio. There are two other Englishmen, and one each from France, Turkey, Iran and Mexico in the state.

Baile's home is about 100 miles north of London and about 40 miles from the east coast of Great Britain.

—:—

BAILE FIRST heard of the program through an advertisement in the publication of the National Farmers' Union, which compares with the Farm Bureau Federation in this country.

He made application and was one of 40 young men screened by a special panel in London. He paid his own passage over here and will pay the return voyage home.

While here, he works on the Heckathorn farm and spends his spare time as a "son" of the president of the Marion County Farm Bureau.

In order to qualify, the young men had to be the son of a farmer and either be a worker or manager of a farm. Farmers in non-English speaking countries had to be able to speak English before they would be accepted for the program.

Baile is paid by Heckathorn for the work he does around the farm. He receives $50 a month, plus room and board. In addition, Heckathorn pays $20 a month to the Farm Bureau for administrative work in handling the young man's passport and other diplomatic problems.

BAILE HAS RECEIVED a very good impression of Americans in his first six months here. He calls them most cooperative and most generous, a combination which strikes the visitor as an ideal team.

The only thing he finds a little hard to become used to is the fast pace of American living. During his usual week here, Baile is gone at least four or five evenings. He said it took him about a month to become used to the rush of activities which Americans accept as common.

He has been taken to at least 70 different meetings during his first half-year here. They included church meetings, grange gatherings, farmers' meetings and several Farm Bureau training meetings, including one in Iowa. He has been asked to speak before many different groups.

Baile said America is a wonderful country and said his stay here was like a vacation. He said the program under which he was brought here was a good way to promote peace since people are able to learn about different countries.

At the present time, the Farm Bureau program is a one-way affair with students from foreign countries coming here.

In 1957, the Farm Bureau hopes to have a two-way exchange plan working with American farmers going abroad to learn the way of life overseas.

Baile finds the farming methods in America quite similar to those employed in England. The main differences he noted were a lack of corn in England because of climatic conditions and the fact that the English fattened almost 60 per cent of their hogs inside, rather than allowing them to graze.

THE AVERAGE FARM, excluding small vegetable farms of one-half acre or so, is about 70 acres. There are many farms of over 1,000 acres in England, but they are not as closely grouped as are American farms of that size.

On the 340 acres which he farmed in England, Baile had 40 registered Red Pole dairy cattle, 50 heifers and steers and 1,000 head of poultry. Eight hundred of the chickens were kept especially for the Christmas season.

They are fattened on stilbestrol chemicals injected into the neck. The chemical produces a bird similar to the American Capon. Weight of these birds is usually around nine pounds and they sell for about 54 cents a pound in the British markets.

Besides the livestock, Baile also raised 80 acres of wheat, 40 acres of oats and 40 acres of barley, with excellent yields from all three crops. His farm is located in one of the most fertile farming sections of England and a seven-year rotation program keeps the soil productive.

Heckathorn is pleased with the work being done by his visitor. He calls him very willing and praised his ability to perform tasks before Heckathorn asked that they be done.

Heckathorn said he thinks more persons should visit foreign lands to become acquainted with the viewpoints of the rest of the world and to help promote the cause of peace. He pointed out that "people are people" all over the world and, though they may differ in their way of thinking, they still have the same basis of life.

SIMON BAILE (right) British farm trainee in America under an American Farm Bureau Federation program, is enjoying his stay here, even though the pace set by Americans is faster than in England. Here he and his host for the year, Dwight E. Heckathorn of near Kenton, president of the Marion County Farm Bureau Federation, make ready to move a bale of hay onto the pile in the background.

Marion Junior Lamb Program Slated Sept. 9

Plans are underway here for the Marion Junior Lamb Show and Sale to be held at the Marion Producers' Livestock Cooperative Yards September 9.

The show of the animals will be held in the morning and the sale will begin at 1 p.m. Sponsored by the Marion County Sheep Improvement Association, the show is designed to encourage the production of quality market lambs, provide a good market for those lambs, provide standards for young people to follow in producing market lambs and provide an incentive which will encourage sheep growers to improve the quality of their flocks.

To be eligible for the show and sale, the lambs must be the projects of 4-H members or vocational agriculture students enrolled in the 1954-1955 year in Marion County.

There will be classes of single animals with a limit of one animal to an exhibitor, pens of three, with a limit of one entry per exhibitor; and extra entries which will be graded and sold with other animals receiving the same grade.

Awards will be made by the Marion County Sheep Improvement Association and the Livestock Producers Cooperative Association.

No entry fee will be charged, but the regular marketing charges of the cooperative will prevail.

Bees Needed To Help Clover Seed Pollination

COLUMBUS — Red clover seed producers may be disappointed unless they plan adequate polination, says C. A. Reese, Ohio State University extension apiarist.

Natural pollination insects are no longer in good supply in Ohio so in some areas there may be almost no seed produced. Insecticides and herbicides, while increasing crop yields, have reduced natural insect pollinators.

Bees can double the average seed yields of 50 to 60 pounds per acre if they are not more than a quarter of a mile away. Reese recommends seed producers work out rental arrangements with local beekeepers for at least two hives of bees per acre of legumes.

Capital letters are 11.8 per cent harder to read than small letters, says the Better Vision Institute.

Dry Milking Equipment Contains Less Bacteria

COLUMBUS—Dry milking equipment on sanitary racks immediately after cleaning, advises Frank Koval, Ohio State University extension dairy technologist. Pails, strainers and other equipment that are drained and kept dry will have less chance of rusting and will last longer. Bacterial growth is lower on dry equipment too.

Moisture is a controlling factor in bacterial growth. Bacteria counts in wet equipment increase nearly 700 times in 24 hours, while bacteria increase in dry equipment is negligible.

Never dry milking equipment with a cloth, Koval warns. A cloth can harbor bacteria. The best way to dry dairy equipment is to put it on a rack to drain dry.

Hessian Flies Thrive in Ohio

Early Growing Wheat Blamed for Increase

COLUMBUS — Hessian fly infestation has been reported much heavier this year in Ohio than for several years. T. H. Parks, extension entomologist at Ohio State University, received word from farmers in many sections of the state before wheat harvest indicating the presence of this insect in increasing numbers.

Damage from this insect has been held to a comparative minimum in recent years by seeding wheat on or after the "safe-seeding" date in Ohio. However, Parks says that in the summer of 1954 there was a great amount of shattered grain. This wheat sprouted and grew during August in stubble fields where last year's crop had been removed.

Hessian fly eggs were deposited on this volunteer wheat in September. This fall brood of flies throughout the period preceding and up to the normal fly-free dates. It was from this in-between brood of flies that those which caused this year's damage came, moving from the volunteer wheat plants last spring to infest this year's wheat, including that which was sown after the fly-free date last fall.

Parks urges farmers to use every precaution to prevent a recurrence of the volunteer wheat development this summer and to observe the local fly-free sowing dates in putting in this fall's crop. These dates may be obtained from county agricultural extension offices.

NEW MEMBERS

Three Marion area men have been elected to membership in the Ayrshire Breeders' Association. They are C. A. Naus and Edwin McClain of near Upper Sandusky and Melvin Turner of near Kenton.

Ohio Farm Econogram

Report on Prices and Economic Trends Prepared by Agricultural Extension Service

New farm loan program geared to make it easier for farmers to acquire family-sized farms. Public Law 273 makes the government the mortgagee for an insured farm ownership loan. These are used by tenants to purchase farms and by owners to enlarge and improve their holdings to adequate family-type farms. Insured loans are limited to 90 per cent value of farm. More information may be secured at county offices of the Farmers Home Administration.

Over-all crop production this year based on condition on Aug. 1, is expected to equal the previous record set in 1948.

—:—

Wheat crop estimate raised six per cent since July 1 to 911 million bushels but still six per cent below last year. Ohio crop still estimated at 45 million bushels. Yield per acre in Ohio estimated at 29 bushels compared with 27.5 bushels a year ago.

—:—

Corn crop estimate raised one per cent above July 1 estimate to 3478 million bushels, an increase of 17 per cent over last year. Ohio expected yields of 59 bushels would produce a crop of 233 million bushels, about four per cent below last year.

—:—

Soybean crop first estimate this year made on Aug. 1 points to a 420 million bushel crop, 23 per cent above last year's record crop. Ohio also a record crop nearly 30 million bushels.

—:—

Summer vegetables production estimated three per cent above last year and seven per cent above average. Larger production of cabbage, cantaloupes, sweet corn, cucumbers, egg plant, garlic, peas, peppers, tomatoes, spinach and watermelons. Significantly smaller crops of carrots, cauliflower, celery, honeydews, lettuce and onions.

—:—

Dairy support purchases in July were about a third less than in July 1954. Supplies in CCC inventory on Aug. 1 totaled 590 million pounds, about half of what they were on that date a year ago when over 1.2 billion pounds were held.

—:—

Wool prices in world markets have been below a year earlier since last September due to slightly larger world supply and lesser demand. World production this year two per cent above 1954 and a record high. Market price in Ohio has been running three to nine cents lower than for same months a year ago.

—:—

Farm population in U. S. in April 1955 numbered 22,158,000 about same as year ago but three million fewer than in 1950. Is 13.5 per cent of total population.

—:—

Milk production in U. S. during July was one per cent above July 1954. Production in first seven months was only slightly below last years' records. Expect production during latter part of 1955 to be slightly larger than for same period in 1954.

—:—

Egg production in U. S. in July was up nine per cent over last year for that month. (Production in July 1954 relatively low due to weather conditions). Potential layers on Aug. 1 down five per cent from a year ago and smallest number since 1950. Still expect dearly winter.

Rainfall Report For July Reads Same as June's

Local Storms Varied; Scioto River Higher Than Previous Month

COLUMBUS — The monthly water report of Ohio Division of Water shows rainfall in the state during the month of July nearly the same as in June.

This month, as in June, precipitation came primarily in the form of local thunderstorms. Some localities received normal or above normal rainfall while others received little rainfall.

The southern part of the state in general reports much more rain than does the northern. Dayton had the greatest total for the month and Toledo the least. Because of the high intensities of the rains runoff was high during and immediately following the storms, and the extreme heat during the entire month caused high evaporation and low soil moisture except immediately following the storms.

Scioto Higher

July stream flow as compared with that for June was higher in the Scioto River and lower in Little Beaver Creek in response to the areal distribution of rainfall noted above. Stream flow at both index stations was about one half of normal for the month, but flow at both was above July of last year.

Little Beaver Creek last July had a 34 per cent of normal flow as compared with a 56 per cent of normal in July this year, and the Scioto River had a 54 per cent of normal flow last July as compared with a 63 per cent of normal in July of this year.

Thus far this year no water supply reservoirs have been reported to be critically low and most are in better condition than a year ago.

Levels Decline

Water levels, the Division reports, in all index wells declined during the month as is normal for this season of the year. In general the declines this month were slightly less than in June last year, and the July ground water levels this year are generally higher than last year because recharge was greater this past spring than in 1953 or 1954. All index wells showed water levels lower than the 5 year average.

In the past reports the Water Division has at times referred to "declining water levels." This has been misinterpreted by some people as meaning that ground-water levels in general are declining year after year. The statements made in this and all other reports refer to the current situation and should not be interpreted as indicating long term trends unless so stated.

It should not be assumed, because water levels are said to be declining during any particular month or during several successive months, that continuing decline, resulting in permanent loss of ground water facilities, is to be expected.

Normal Declines

Normally ground water levels decline from about April through October, depending to some extent on amount and distribution of rainfall during the period. From about October to the following April the ground water reservoirs are recharged, the amount of this recharge depending upon current rain, soil condition and other factors.

So many varied conditions affect both rises from recharge and seasonal decline that the interplay between them, which controls current water levels and short term trends, is extremely complex. But given favorable conditions the water table has risen from lower levels than those at present. It is entirely possible that the water levels of next July could be as much above normal as todays' are below.

Home Council Sets National Gathering For August 20 to 25

COLUMBUS — Ohio's newly appointed state home demonstration leader will be a featured speaker at the annual meeting of the National Home Demonstration Council in Chicago August 23. Mrs. Loa Davis Whitfield, who becomes Ohio state leader effective September 1, will speak on her experiences as a world traveler and as an educator in the field of homemaking. Title of her presentation is "The World in My Home."

The National Council meeting is scheduled for August 21 to 25, in Chicago. It is preceded on August 19 and 20 by the 17th annual meeting of the U. S. Council of the Associated Country Women of the World. Many of the same persons will attend both meetings. Interests of both organizations are closely allied.

Membership in the National Home Demonstration Council includes rural and urban homemakers from 39 states, Puerto Rico and Hawaii. In their home states and counties these women help plan programs of educational activity to strengthen, develop, coordinate and extend adult education in home economics through the Cooperative Extension Service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture and the Land Grant Colleges.

Pinkeye Illness Is Rampant in Late Summer

Disease May Spread Rapidly if Animals Are Not Isolated Promptly

This is the season for that bothersome livestock condition known as pinkeye, the American Foundation for Animal Health warned farmers today.

Pinkeye is generally considered an infectious disease that may spread rapidly from animal to animal within a herd, or may be carried from one herd to another.

The Foundation says there is no one certain thing that predisposes to pinkeye. It may be something mechanical, like a foreign body in the eye or eyelid or it may be an allergy caused by pollen from pasture plants or weeds. These things set the stage for infection. Sometimes vitamin A. deficiency, caused by poor late summer pastures can be a cause.

Flies and gnats are instrumental in spreading the disease from one animal to another. These pests cause cattle to bunch together to ward off the flies and thus the discharge from an infected eye can be passed along either by the flies or by direct contact.

The first symptom is a watery discharge running down the face of the animal from the corner of the eye. The animal will squint and wink its eye and finally the membranes become swollen and turn red.

Infected animals should be isolated in a cool, darkened barn or shed. Veterinary attention should be provided to get the animals back to good health and to prevent spread to the rest of the herd.

Today there are far more efficient methods of treatment than a few years ago, as well as better antiseptics and the newer drugs to do a successful job of clearing up pinkeye. However, the Foundation adds that prompt treatment and diagnosis is important if losses are to be avoided.

CLERICAL GOLF

MINNEAPOLIS (UP) — Mayor Eric Hoyer, who recently vetoed a proposal that the park board let clergymen play golf free on week days suggested instead "passing the plate" at Minneapolis churches for "golfing money." He also suggested giving clergymen reduced rates one or two days each week.

Hoeft Blanks Indians on 2 Safeties for 7-0 Shutout

Ohio-Indiana League Grad Drops Cleveland Into Third

DETROIT (AP) — Knocked out of the pennant race by three losses in Cleveland a week ago, the Detroit Tigers got a measure of revenge last night by hauling the Tribe down a notch to third place.

Southpaw Billy Hoeft never let the Indians in the ball game. He allowed just two singles — to Bob Avila in the first inning and to Larry Doby in the second. His only base on balls went to Al Smith in the ninth. The 7-0 shutout was Hoeft's 12th victory against six losses.

The Tigers lambasted four Cleveland hurlers for 13 hits, including home runs by catcher Frank House and centerfielder Bill Tuttle who combined to drive home all the Detroit runs. House had two doubles besides his homer and batted in three runs; Tuttle collected two singles and a bases-loaded walk along with his homer to drive home four.

Maglie Relieves

House's first double scored two runs off Early Wynn in the second inning. After Wynn walked the next two men, Sal Maglie relieved and gave the run-forcing walk to Tuttle.

Don Mossi was the victim of House's homer in the sixth, which was followed by two more runs on a walk, Harvey Kuenn's double and Tuttle's two-run single. Jose Santiago came to the mound with the bases loaded by a walk and single and got the two needed outs in that jam, but in the eighth was tagged for Tuttle's homer.

Last night's loss was the eighth for Wynn against 14 victories, and has won only three games in the past six weeks.

There are less than six weeks left, and Wynn's chances of being a 20-game winner are slim. He will get eight or nine more starts, barring injury, and his immediate goal will be the two triumphs he needs to make him a 200-game winner for his 14 major league seaons, all with Washington and Cleveland. Bob Feller is the only other active pitcher who has won 200 or more.

Lemon To Pitch

Bob Lemon, who also has a long-odds chance of winning 20 for Cleveland again this year, goes after his 14th victory here today against tall Jim Bunning, a rookie who has a 2-3 record. Lemon, sidelined with a torn leg muscle for three weeks up to last Friday, won his only victory of the past six weeks that day against Kansas City.

Brown Asking Otto To End Retirement

HIRAM, Ohio (AP) — Coach Paul Brown has asked Otto Graham to return to his T-quarterback job with the Cleveland Browns, but just when Otto will end the retirement he announced last winter remained uncertain today.

The need developed Monday when a federal judge ruled Bobby Freeman, Auburn rookie who was to have been No. 2 quarterback for the Browns behind George Ratterman, was enjoined from practicing or playing with the Cleveland professional football champions. This was because Freeman already was under contract to play for Winnipeg of the Canadian Football League.

Shoemaker Wins Six

CHICAGO (AP)—Willie Shoemaker, America's top jockey the last two years, pounded across six winners Tuesday at Washington Park but it was an old story to "Shoe" who "did it before."

The six winners brought Shoemaker's total to 243 for the year, only two less than Willie Hartack.

Detroit To Fill 'Killer' Role in Pennant Drive

DETROIT (AP)—It's quite possible a fifth place team—Detroit—holds they key to the American League pennant puzzle.

With 24 of their remaining 38 games against the first division clubs, the Tigers are in a position to dictate—at least in part—who will face Brooklyn in the World Series.

"And we're not picking our spots," said Manager Bucky Harris. "We're not going to be Cleveland killers or Yankee killers — just plain killers. Who knows, if we hold up we may be pushing Boston for fourth place."

The Tigers, in the midst of 23 successive games against the first division, dealt Cleveland a 7-0 jolt Tuesday night as Billy Hoeft hurled the "greatest" game of his career.

Hoeft allowed only two singles—in the first and second innings—as he posted his fifth shutout to drop the Indians a game and a half behind the roaring New York Yankees.

"I'll bet I didn't throw 10 curves all night," beamed the slender 21-year-old southpaw from Oshkosh, Wis. "My fast ball was alive so I kept using it."

"It was the best I've ever seen you pitch," offered Harvey Kuenn, Hoeft's roommate.

Hoeft gave up a first-inning single to Bobby Avila and another in the second to Larry Doby. Then he retired 21 straight batters before giving up his only walk of the game to Al Smith with two out in the ninth inning.

The game left Detroit with eight more contests against Cleveland, six more with Chicago and Boston and four against New York.

Jets Bow 9-7 To Virginians

By The Associated Press

The Syracuse Chiefs, fighting for a first division berth in the International League race have stymied the Havana Sugar Kings bid to overtake the Montreal Royals and Toronto Maple Leafs who were back today just where they started two days ago.

While the Royals and Leafs were failing to make any headway in their battle for first place, the Sugar Kings dropped back in their effort to overtake the leaders as they twice fell before the Chiefs.

Lynn Lovenguth shut out the Cubans on six hits 1-0, while the Leafs edged the Royals 5-4 in 14 innings.

In other games the fourth place Rochester Red Wings held their 2½ game lead over Syracuse, by dowing the Buffalo Bisons 5-3 and the Richmond Virginians defeated the Columbus Jets 9-7.

VFW Nine Wins Diamond Crown in Pony League

Chicago Seeks Annual Service Football Classic

ANNAPOLIS, Md (AP) — If Navy and Army stick by their policy guns, the latest Chicago plea for their annual football game seems destined for mothballs.

Unless it's followed up with a gift of more than half a million dollars. Athletic officials of the two academies might look then.

At least, that's the way they've reacted to recent past efforts to woo them away from Philadelphia where they have played since 1931 except for three World War II years.

The most recent official indication of at least Navy's attitude was contained in a study it made in 1948. At that time, it stated the game has to make $250,000 for each academy.

This is after expenses of the game, including transportation of every midshipman and cadet.

The navy figured in order to do this and play in Chicago it would need $550,000 from a source other than sale of the $6 tickets.

Chicago's bid for the game was made Tuesday to Secretary of Defense Wilson by Otto K. Eitel, chairman of the special events section of the city's convention bureau.

Wilson's office announced he was turning the Chicago bid over to the two academies.

The world has about 44,000 thunderstorms a day, says the National Geographic Society.

Action Resumes

Bowling Alleys To Open Doors Here Friday Night

Marion's two bowling alleys will resume action Friday. The Palace Recreation Center will open its doors at 6 p.m. while action will get under way at the Marion Recreation Center at 7 p.m.

Spokesmen for both centers today predicted higher scores during the winter season here. Several improvements have been installed during the summer months, all with an eye toward boosting scores.

John Kayatin, operator of the Marion, said his alleys had been resurfaced during the off period and new ABC-sanctioned equipment purchased.

Jerry Stephenson, the Palace spokesman, said his establishment would have a new cooling system to assure fresh air at all times A gas heating unit also has been installed to keep all alleys at a uniform temperature That should help the bowlers at his alleys hike their scores, he believes.

Open bowling will continue until Sept. 6 at both alleys, the operators reported.

League reservations are being accepted now and a few openings were reported at both places. Kayatin said a few feminine keglers were needed to fill out the Saturday Afternoon ladies' League. Other leagues are beig filled rapidly, he said, but some vacancies still exist.

Stephenson said some bowlers who carry a 170 average are still needed in the Classic League Some league berths are available on Wednesday and Friday nights, he added.

Dodgers Move Seven Contests To Jersey City

BROOKLYN (AP)—The National League-leading Brooklyn Dodgers, growing restless in light of sagging attendance and ready to junk Ebbets Field, will try Roosevelt Stadium in Jersey City, N.J., for size next season, playing seven of their regularly scheduled games there.

Club President Walter O'Malley announced the plan Tuesday.

The Jersey City ball park was the site of International League baseball games until five years ago.

Boston Faltering

Yankees Cool Off Red Sox 13-6; Chicago Nails Second

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Staff Writer

Is the bubble busted in Boston? The once-hot Red Sox, stepping on the heels of the leaders barely three weeks ago, now have tumbled to six defeats in their last 11 games, slipping 4½ games behind in the American League pennant race.

The Red Sox took a real pasting Tuesday night, crumbling before the New York Yankees 13-6 as the bombers won their seventh straight to snatch a 1½-game lead in the mad pennant scramble The Yanks added a full game to their margin as Detroit knocked off the Cleveland Indians 7-0 behind Billy Hoeft's two-hitter and Chicago replaced the tribe in second place by finally subduing the Kansas City Athletics 5-4 in 11 innings.

Mantle Clubs Homer

A seven-run third inning, their most productive frame of the season, got the job done for the Yankees. Mickey Mantle clubbed a two-run homer, his 30th, and winning pitcher Don Larsen walloped a three-run homer as New York scoffed at Boston ace Frank Sullivan in the big inning.

Larsen won his fourth since returning from Denver, but wasn't around at the end. Tom Morgan mopped up for the righthander after Jackie Jensen's 20th home run in the eighth inning belted Larsen from the mound. Earlier, Larsen had given up homers to relief pitcher Dick Brodowski and Ted Williams.

Bill Skowron, Hank Bauer also homered for the leaders.

Kansas City scored just one run on a double and three singles to tie Chicago in the eighth, then made it 4-3 on Gus Zermal's pinch single in the 11th. The White Sox came right back against Tom Gorman, Art Ceccarelli and Bill Harrington, loading the bases on two walks and Jim Rivera's bunt Jim Busby's sacrifice fly tied it and Bob Kennedy's single won it.

Baltimore smacked 16 hits, including Cal Abram's two-run homer, to beat Washington 7-2.

Dodgers Beaten

In the National, New York dumped Brooklyn 5-3, St.Louis edged Milwaukee 3-2, Cincinnati whipped Chicago 11-2 and Philadelphia trounced Pittsburgh 12-3.

Willie Mays got the Giants home safe with his 37th homer, a two-run blow, for a 5-0 lead in the fifth before Roy Campanella finally solved Ruben Gomez for a three-run shot, his 26th, in the sixth. Johnny Podres lost it.

The Cardinals dumped the Braves to a one-game edge over third-place New York on Bill Sarni's run-scoring triple in the eighth. Stan Musial smacked his 26th homer with one on in the first as Harv Haddix won his 10th.

Cincinnati lifted fifth place from the Cubs, swinging for 15 hits and rolling up its runs in the first three innings on 11 hits and two errors.

Del Ennis drove in five runs and Jim Greengrass had four hits, including two doubles, as the Phils belted the Pirates for 15 hits.

Erie Eliminated From Tourney

Erie No 1 bowed out of district softball tournament play last night at Mansfield.

The Marion Railroaders were defeated 7-1 by Mansfield Gorman Rupp, three time tourney winner, which battles unbeaten Mount Vernon Victory Market in the tournament finals tonight on Gorman Rupp Field.

Erie scored its lone run in the opening inning on singles by Max Roseberry and Bus Gruber but got only a harmless hit the rest of the way off Gorman Rupp's Jim Regula.

The winners came up with three markers in the first on a two-run double by Regula and another two-bagger by Jim Hetler to put the game under wraps early. Single runs came across the plate in the second and fourth frames on homers by Robbie Kanz and Fred Zahn and the final two Gorman Rupp markers scored in the seventh.

The winners pounded out 10 hits off the offerings of starter Jim Kunkle and Bud Thorpe, his reliever.

Marionites Visit Umpire

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Williams of 754 Blaine Ave. and their granddaughter, Cara Marie Williams of 390 W. Columbia St., have returned after a 10-day visit with the son and father, Dick Williams, who is an umpire in the Class C Northern League.

Williams is in his second year as a professional umpire. The local group watched several games involving the Grand Forks, N.D. club, farm team of the New York Yankees and also watched a practice game of the Winnepeg Blue Bombers, Canadian grid team.

Redlegs Nip Chicago for Fifth Place

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Cincinnati Redlegs have been guilty many times this year of failing to take advantage of an opportunity to improve their National League standing but they couldn't be accused of that last night

The chance was there to take over fifth place in the loop and the Reds almost blew the Chicago Cubs right out of Crosley Field as they grabbed the opportunity. They scored 11 times in the first three innings to breeze to an 11-2 triumph over the Cubs and thus take fifth place by four percentage points.

With that kind of an early cushion, Joe Black had an easy time going the route and it was only his second complete pitching performance in his major league career in a regular season National League game.

Lanky Joe allowed the Cubs nine hits but he did a good job of scattering them except in the seventh He struck out seven of the Bruins, five of them in the first three innings

The Reds combed three Chicago pitchers for 15 hits—13 singles, a double and Smokey Burgess' 17th home run of the season Every player except Ted Kluszewski got into the hitting act at least once Wally Post, Gus Bell and Rocky Bridges each had three singles, two of Bridges' blows coming in the second inning when the Cincinnatians scored six times.

Johnny Temple's two-for-three performance boosted his batting average to .298 to put the Reds right on the verge of having five regulars in the 300 hitting class.

Temple's first single and the home run by Burgess got the Redlegs away to a quick two-run lead in the opening inning The six-run second came as the team mixed four singles with two walks and two damaging Cub errors

One of the walks—to Post—was intentional and it was the first of three disastrous intentional passes issued by Cub hurlers In all three instances, the batter who came up next rapped out a hit to score runs

Two of the intentional passes came in the third and they were combined with three hits for the last three Cincinnati runs

In all, the Reds scored their 11 runs on their first 11 hits

The Cincinnati runs were scored off starter Jim Davis and Hal Jeffcoat Bonus pitcher Don Kaiser came on in the fifth to stifle the Reds but he was helped along by a couple of circus catches by Jim Bolger, a Cincinnati boy playing with the Bruins.

The fifth spot in the league will be at stake again tonight, of course, and Don Gross, Cincinnati rookie, was scheduled to pitch against Bob Rush of the Cubs.

Ashland Little Leaguers In Midwest Title Game

JOLIET, Ill (AP)—Ashland, Ohio, meets Hamtramck, Mich., today for the midwest regional championship of the Little League Baseball tournament. The winner goes to the world championship tournament in Williamsport, Pa.

A bases-loaded home run by pitcher Jim Briggs helped Ashland gain a 9-3 victory over Joplin, Mo., last night. The win assured Ashland the championship playoff Briggs homered in the fifth when Ashland was trailing, 3-2 He allowed only three hits on the mound.

Yesterday's Stars

Pitching—Billy Hoeft, Tigers, allowed just two singles, and one walk in beating Cleveland 7-0

Batting—Bob Kennedy, White Sox, singled Minnie Minoso home with winning run to defeat Kansas City 5-4 in 11 innings.

Minneapolis Wins 13th Straight Game

American Association teams—Charleston in particular — hopes No. 13 will prove a jinx for league leading Minneapolis. The Millers ran their winning streak to 13 last night with a 10-4 conquest of Charleston. The same clubs meet again tonight.

And Denver, apparently hopelessly beaten as it came up for its last turn at bat, shoved across six runs in the last of the ninth to defeat Louisville, 11-10. Omaha lost to Indianapolis, 4-2 in 12 innings, and St. Paul downed Toledo 9-4.

South Koreans Stone Officer Of U.S. Army

Rioting in Protest of Presence of Neutral Commission Continues

SEOUL, (AP)—Rock-hurling South Koreans injured an American Army officer today as they again turned their wrath against U. S. troops guarding inspection teams of the Neutral Nations Supervisory Commission.

Lt. Wayne N. Hansen, Augusta, Ga., was hit on the head as South Koreans hurled a barrage of rocks and stones at eight U.S. Army vehicles crossing the causeway between Inchon and Wolmi Island, where neutral truce inspectors are housed.

Army doctors said Hansen sustained a slight brain concussion and bruises of the ribs and legs but described his condition as "not serious."

The incident, latest in the series of South Koreans demonstrations demanding ouster of pro-Communist Czech and Polish members of the NNSC, flared into violence as 100 South Koreans tried to block Army supply trucks going to Wolmi.

U.S. Army sentries used fire hoses and tear gas grenades.

The incident came just as last week's mob rioting and demonstrations against NNSC personnel appeared to have subsided and as Gen. L. L. Lemnitzer, U.N. Far East commander, was en route to Seoul airport for the return flight to his Tokyo headquarters.

Lemnitzer spent several heated sessions with South Korean President Syngman Rhee last week, sternly warning Rhee that American troops would protect all members of the NNSC from violent demonstrations.

Lemnitzer conferred with Rhee again today.

Copper Workers End Long Strike

By The Associated Press

Employes of the Kennecott Copper Corp. started back to work today in four states, ending a costly 47-day-old strike.

A joint union council Tuesday night instructed the men to return after agreement was reached with the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter workers at Ray, Ariz.

Kennecott spokesmen said full-scale production would resume as soon as maintenance work neglected during the strike had been polished off. They said all the 11,000 employes in Utah, Nevada, New Mexico and Arizona are expected back by the end of the week.

Utah workers agreed on settlement terms, including a 15½ cent-an-hour wage and pension package, last Friday. New Mexico and Nevada workers later accepted the same offer.

Westinghouse May Sell Reactor to Fiat Firm

GENEVA (AP)—Charles H. Weaver, vice president of the Westinghouse Electric Corp., confirmed today that he has had preliminary conversations with officials of the Fiat Co. of Turin concerning the sale of an atomic reactor.

Weaver, who is director of Westinghouse's atomic power division, said Antonio Valletta, president of Fiat, had discussed the possibility of buying a reactor with him here during the atoms-for-peace conference.

Weaver said Valletta's plan was to turn the reactor over to the university at Turin for operation and use some of the power produced for Fiat's plants there. The Westinghouse official emphasized that the talks were in an early stage and the price of the reactor had not been discussed.

Child Becomes Carey's First Polio Case in 1955

CAREY—Jimmy Teets, 8, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Teets of four miles southwest of Carey, is a polio patient in Blanchard Valley Hospital, Findlay. He is Carey's first polio case of the year.

The youngster's right leg became paralyzed Saturday and he was taken to the hospital. He had been ill for about three weeks, however, polio was not suspected. There are three other boys in the Teets family.

The boy is expected to be returned home at the end of this week.

Ohio State Life Offers To Buy Midland Firm

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Directors of Ohio State Life Insurance Co. have offered to buy a controlling interest in Midland Mutual Life Insurance Co., a Columbus competitor, President Fredereck E. Jones of Ohio State Life said.

The directors yesterday mailed to Midland stockholders an offer of $1,000 a share for 3,000 shares of outstanding stock, Jones said. The offer is contingent upon Ohio State Life getting control of Midland before the latter's stockholders vote Friday on converting the firm from a stock to a mutual company.

The conversion, in effect, would place control of Midland in the hands of its policyholders rather than the stockholders, which number about 100.

Ohio State Life would have to pay three million dollars to buy all of Midland's stock. All it needs, however, is a 51 per cent interest to control Midland.

In such an event, Jones said the two firms would merge under Ohio State Life's name to form a company with assets of more than 160 million dollars and about 600 million dollars of insurance in force. Both companies are now about the same size, he said.

Radio and Television

By SYLVESTER L. WEAVER JR.
(NBC President, Pinch-Hitting for John Crosby)

Programming Up

The press, John Crosby included, has given some attention in recent months to an NBC policy called "Enlightenment Through Exposure." Under this policy, we try to weave elements of cultural, informationa a n d educational value into our prime-time shows without detracting from the entertainment values that lure mass audiences.

The press response has ranged from extremes of praise to extremes of skepticism. Mr. Crosby, I would judge, has steered a middle course. To him the policy presently means that "little snippets of culture are inserted in regular shows whose purpose is mostly to entertain." He has appraised our efforts as "a small beginning — but you have to start somewhere." Fair enough!

OUT OF THIS small beginning we frankly aim to create something that is useful, inspiring and educational as well as entertaining — something that contains elements of appeal for everyone. We do this because a lot of us in network television believe, unblushingly, that we are shaping an instrument with the greatest potential for good since the invention of the printing press.

Our problem is how to go about unleashing this great force for good, how to expose more people to more good.

I believe there are two things we must do. First, the cultural infusion: more and more snippets woven into a cultural mosaic of fine music, fine art, fine drama. As the level of popular appreciation rises, we must keep pace with increased programming of a cultural nature. We must make culture a commodity of mass appeal.

Second — and in support of that first aim — we must make television fluid. The old rigid radio programming forms of regular half-hour and hour shows are not our answer. Used alone, they would limit television, would make it a small instrument achieving only small ends.

WE HAVE, therefore, sought fluidity by opening up television to programs scheduled in an irregular pattern. True, we have kept the old radio forms and we shall continue to do so. But we have added new ones — 90-minute and two-hour spectaculars in color, live; special service shows like "Home"; special telementaries like Henry Salomon's story of the atom, "Three - Two - One-Zero."

This is program fluidity such as radio never knew. Next season, NBC and CBS alone will program more than 100 spectaculars. Some, like our live color presentation of the Sadler's Wells Ballet, will be 90-minutes snippets of pure culture.

We have another name for this type of big special programming, with its emphasis on fine art and fine music. We call it "programming up." It is the antithesis of the motion picture philosophy of programming down to the lowest denominator of mass appeal.

Unlike the movies, we in television are not merchants of escape; we seek to deal in reality. The difficulty in "programming up," of course, is that many knowledgeable people feel it's not good business. Let's examine that.

TELEVISION, L I K E newspapers and magazines, is a mass medium. Like the printed media, its prosperity rests on circulation. But, in the business of attracting larger circulation, the analogy between television and print breaks down. Where newspapers and magazines must seek their added circulation, I suspect, on popular levels, the problem for television is just the opposite.

Income bracket has long ago ceased to be an element in television circulation — there are some 36,000,000 television sets in use. Television already has the big, mass audience. The backbone of this audience is what we call the "heavy viewer" — the customer who spends hours each day before the receiver.

Much of this "heavy - viewer" audience is responsive to low-budget quiz shows, to regularly scheduled dramas, to broad-appeal comedy shows. These are the standard formula shows that attract large audiences, and I do not deprecate them. We have room for all forms.

But television must be a medium for all the people. And to increase our circulation we can aim only at the "light viewer."

-:-

"PROGRAMMING UP" is not the easy way to riches. Replacing a one-hour commercial program by an award-winning telementary like "Three-Two-One-Zero" on a sustaining basis does not flood the network ledger with black ink. But it is our way of compelling the "light viewer" to spend more time at his set, and of forcing the non-viewer to scurry over to his neighbor's house. (Eventually he'll wear out his welcome and have to buy his own set.)

Next season, we plan to offer some tantalizing bait for the "lights" and the "nons." There is a series of one-hour documentaries on the history of the Twentieth Century — Project 20, we call it.

Already set are "Nightmare in Red," a dramatic history of Russian communism, told in terms of Russian-made film from all parts of the free world; "Young India," a probing study of that complex new nation; a survey of the Jazz Age, and other aspects of current history.

A probable starter for fall is "Wide, Wide World," previewed a few weeks ago in a 90-minute program that darted all over the United States and across borders to Canada and Mexico.

-:-

THERE WILL BE the new Maurice Evans - produced series of great dramas, presented as 90-minute color spectaculars on Sunday afternoons. World - famous concert - hall figures like Artur Rubinstein and Marian Anderson will appear on other spectaculars.

There will be premieres of operas commissioned by NBC, and news-in-depth studies like the recent "Meeting at the Summit" program.

And color television will add to the torment of the stay-aways We're boosting our colorcasts 500 per cent above last year's output.

Frankly, it's going to be a hard year on the TV-boycotters. I sorrow for gentlemen like Mr. Wolcott Gibbs who recently appeared in this space as a guest columnist and announced that he did not have a television set.

What a pity that Mr. Gibbs, a student of drama, will miss the Evans dramatic series, the ballet spectacular, t h e three - hour presentation of Richard III with Sir Laurence Olivier. But perhaps his neighbors are still tolerant.

Elks Clip FOP Nine Twice for City Teen Title

The Marion Elks scored a double victory over Fraternal Order of Police to grab the city Teen League title Tuesday night at Lincoln Park.

The Elks downed the county league champs 12-1 in the opener of their three-game series for the city crown and came back to take the nightcap 8-6.

Larry Coy, regularly an outfielder, tried his hand at pitching in the opener and turned in a three-hitter. Bob Messner held the FOP squad to four hits in the second triumph.

A big fourth inning in which the Elks scored all their 12 markers enabled Coy to post the opening game victory. Six hits, four walks, and a pair of hit batsmen off FOP starter Butch Simpson and Eddie Kurz accounted for the fourth inning total.

Coy was tagged for the lone FOP run in the first on a lead-off triple by Kurz and a wild pitch but blanked the losers the rest of the way while striking out five and walking seven.

Simpson hurled into the fourth frame, moved to another position, and then hurled the final two frames. They gave up seven hits, struck out four, walked four and hit three batters.

Coy had two hits for the Elks and Kurz collected two in a losing cause.

A six-run third sent the Elks on the way to victory and the city Teen title in the nightcap.

The six markers were scored on three hits, a pair of fielder's choices, a walk and error. The margin of victory was single runs in the fifth and sixth frames.

Messner held the losers to one run—in the opening frame—over the first four innings, then was touched for one in the fifth and two each in the next two frames as the FOP nine fell short

Messner whiffed seven FOP batters and walked 10 while hitting one batter. Anspaugh started for the loser sand gave way to Kurz They surrendered eight hits, fanned five, walked four and hit a batter.

Coy and Armbruster both had two hits for the Elks.

'Nothing To Hide'

Norris Invites Ring Probe By Congressional Groups

DETROIT (AP)—The National Boxing Assn.'s plea for congressional help in cleaning up big-time boxing has drawn the challenge of New York fight promoter Jim Norris to "let the federal government run it."

That, the president of the powerful International Boxing Club said yesterday, would be "okay" with him.

"If the commissions can't run boxing," he said, "if they're too impotent to do the job, then let the federal government run it. It may be the best solution."

The NBA asked for federal intervention as it wound up its annual convention. Sen. Potter (R-Mich) promised he would recommend a congressional probe.

The plea was sent as George A. Barton, of Minneapolis, former NBA president, reported an investigation he was making of professional fighting ran into a blank wall when witnesses refused to sign affidavits.

Barton quoted them as saying they didn't want to "get knocked off."

The government has an anti-trust suit against Norris' IBC. And the fight promoter, whose intertwined family interests include control of the Detroit Red Wing hockey team and Detroit's Olympia Stadium, said he was "fed up with investigations."

"Let them investigate anything they want," he said. "We've got nothing to hide."

Lou Razienda of Illinois was elected NBA president to succeed Anthony Petronella.

Black Feather Archery Group Preparing for State Matches

A split meet of 28 field rounds and 28 hunters rounds will be held Sunday at the Black Feather Bowmen's range near Marion. The meet will serve as a warmup for a challenge match with Mount Vernon's Mid States Archers the following Sunday.

On Sept. 3 and 4, the local archers will be competing in the state field championship meet at Columbus. The state event is scheduled for the Linden Archers' new range at the Hoover Dam site.

Several of the Marion archers are confident of high finishes in the state action. The Marion group will be headed by Al Roach, of Cardington, newly crowned U.S National Bowmen champion.

Last Saturday, the Black Feather group held its first night archery field meet at its new range The meet got under way at 9:30 p.m. in a light rainfall and continued until 12:30 Sunday morning.

Only one five-cell flashlight was used on a target. Each archer shot the regulation range under that condition.

Roach again took top honors with E. J. Leadenham of 309 Willow St. in second and Bob Stephens of Cardington coming in third. Awards included archery equipment. The rain hampered the bowmen with wet feathers and a shower of water from the bow string after each shot but the scores remained higher than expected.

Marion Man Hurt In Traffic Mishap

One person was injured in one traffic accident reported today by Marion state highway patrolmen.

City police investigated two mishaps, both involving damage of less than $100.

William H. Piper, 18, of 520 Toledo Ave, was admitted to Marion General Hospital for observation following a one-car accident on Route 30-S, 15 miles west of Marion.

Piper suffered a slight cerebral concussion, contusions of the face and abrasions to his left thumb when the car he was driving left the highway and overturned.

Patrolmen reported that the hood of Piper's car, traveling west on Route 30, apparently snapped open and flew up and he lost control of the vehicle. His car swerved to the left side of the road and then to the right where it flipped over into the ditch on its top. Piper evidently was thrown from the car as it rolled over, patrolmen said.

The top and right side of the car were badly damaged and it was forced to be removed by a wrecker.

The expansion of incomes in the last 15 years had been more important to our nation's economy than the number of jobs was a point brought out in a talk here Monday night by a market analyist to members of the Rotary Club. The speaker was Daniel O. Wiggins of the sales training course of the Ford Motor Car Co., Cleveland. He was presented by Robert Swearingen, program chairman for the meeting. Wiggins who spoke to the club on market analysis said that prior to 1948 the Ford company hired professional analysts. Since that time, he said, the company has established its own market research department.

Wiggins said that an important factor in this country's prosperity is the fact that the income expansion in the last 15 years has been in the $3,600 to $7,200 bracket. He said this has been more important to our economy than the number of jobs. The most important economic stimulant, he delared, is leisure time with some money to spend. The speaker said that factors in our continuing prosperity will be the need and the building of schools, highways, homes, rebuilding of slums, replacement of obsolete machinery in factories and the vast potential wants of the American people, in addition to the rapidly increasing population of this country.

Girl's Body Not That Of Missing Cincinnatian

COVINGTON, Ky. (AP)—The identity of a young woman's decomposed body is still a mystery after a dentist eliminated the possibility it might be that of a girl missing since July 3.

The body was found Sunday in a Boone County "lover's lane."

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Kidwell, Cincinnati, parents of the missing girl, Brenda, 16, viewed the body Monday and said it might be their daughter.

But yesterday, the dentist compared his dental records of work done on the girl's teeth and found no similarity.

Actors' Union Okays Contract

Ends 12-Week Strike; Minimum Rates Hiked

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The Screen Actors Guild has accepted a new contract for actors in television entertainment films, ending a 12-day strike. The actors voted 735 to 307 Tuesday night to end the strike.

Spokesmen for both the Guild and TV film producers said the agreement will give actors residual pay for second runs of filmed programs, a key issue in the dispute. Under the old contract the actors got a percentage of the original pay for third through sixth runs. The new contract, to run through March 31, 1960, provides for payment for second through sixth runs.

The residual payments will be 35 per cent of the minimum for second runs, 30 per cent for third runs and 25 per cent for subsequent showings through the sixth run.

Minimum pay rates: day players, formerly $70, now $80 a day; singers mouthing to playback, from $45 up to $50; stunt men and airplane pilots, raised from $100 to $115 a day; free lance contracts, from $250 to $280 a week.

Italics are 2.7 per cent more difficult to read than roman type, says the Better Vision Institute.

6 Suggested for Wildlife Post Should C. A. Dambach Resign

By REED SMITH

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Six names figure prominently in speculation over the possible resignation of Charles A. Dambach as chief of the Ohio wildlife division and appointment of a successor.

Well Qualified

Dambach has indicated he would quit to head a newly-formed conservation foundation if Ohio State University trustees looked his way.

Trustees may decide at their Labor Day weeked meeting in Puti-n-Bay on a man to head the foundation charged with coordinating the university's conservation curriculum.

Officials consider Dambach well qualified to accept the new post or to remain as state wildlife chief. He came to his state job June 16, 1950, on leave as associate professor of zoology at OSU.

Dambach is generally credited with bringing about liberalized fishing regulations, longer hunting seasons and creation of public hunting areas and lakes. He also has evolved fish and game studies, some of them controversial. But his friends assert it is hard to please all of Ohio's 700,000 hunters and million or more fishermen.

Listed in a publication of the Outdoor Writers of Ohio, headed by Burt Brickner of Tiffin, as prospects to succeed Dambach in "the thankless 24 hours a day job," were:

Ray White of Millersburg, secretary to Gov. Frank J. Lausche who appoints the wildlife chief. White formerly headed the information and education section of the State Department of Natural Resources. The division is a branch of the department.

Findlay Game Protector

Lee Roach of Canal Winchester, Dambach's assistant and veteran department employe. He is a fish biologist.

William Hendershot of Findlay, former district game manager for northwestern Ohio, who now keeps tabs on animal importation, field trials and private shooting preserves.

Howard Landstaff of Findlay, District 2 wildlife supervisor, under consideration for chief when Dambach was appointed.

Dan Atzenhoffer of Xenia, former game biologist, now District 6 wildlife supervisor.

George Emmet of Cleveland, head of the department's information and education section.

The division has charge of Ohio's wildlife—fish and game—that by law belong to all the people, it supervises public hunting area, now under a program of expansion, and some state-owned lakes.

Officials wondered whether Lausche would act on appointment of a natural resources director before resolving the Dambach question.

The six-year term of the present director, A. W. Marion of Rockford, expired last week. Marion has headed the department since consolidation of state conservation activities on Aug. 11, 1949. He continues his duties in expectation of re-appointment for another statutory term.

BOWLING GREEN

"Famous Birthdays in August" was the theme for the program of the Bowling Green Grange for a regular meetirg Friday evening.

Following the business meeting, a poem, "It Happened in August," by Mrs. Loa May Amstutz opened the program. Articles on famous persons whose birthdays occur in August were: Harry Lauder by John Owen; Francis Scott Keye, by Mrs. Ivan Owen; Carrie Jacobs Bond, by Mrs. Blanche Little; and Ethel Barrymore, by Mrs. Marie Little. Group singing was followed by a balloon contest for the children. A report of the 84th Congress was given by Willis Bowles.

Rose Ann Murphy and Danny Snyder were chosen as the princess and prince for the county contest.

Announcement was made that the home economics committee will be in charge of the next meeting at which time a miscellaneous shower will be held for Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Weichart.

End of Church, State Truce in Argentina Seen

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, (AP)—The end of a shaky two-month truce between the Roman Catholic Church and Argentina's dominant Peronista political party appeared at hand today.

The party's Supreme Council last night indicated its open anti-church campaign would be revived with a statement condemning "those who use religious dogma and their church as instruments of low political ends." The council said the time had come for it to resume all-out political activity.

Such a move had been expected after the government announced Monday that it had uncovered a plot to assassinate President Juan D. Peron and other government leaders. The government blamed "Catholic nationalists" and opposition political leaders.

Public demonstrations and disturbances which began Monday continued Tuesday. Police fired tear gas to break up a crowd of 500 students shouting insults at the government in the city of Eva Peron, 40 miles south of Buenos Aires. They arrested 41 demonstrators.

STEADY WORK

ELLSWORTH, Mich. (UP) — Tracy E. (Ben) Boss, 76, is serving his 47th term as treasurer of Banks Township. Boss was first elected in 1905 and has held the job continuously since then except for a four-year period when he took time out to operate a farm.

Although ancient ice sheets did not reach as far south as Washington, D.C., floods from melting of the ice did much to form the terrain around the city.

Bureau Predicts 'Normal' Weather

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Weather Bureau predicted Tuesday higher than normal temperatures during the next 30 days in the Northeast, Great Lakes region and northern and Central Plains states.

Below normal average temperatures are forecast for the Pacific Northwest, Far Southwest and lower Mississippi Valley. Other areas are expected to have just about normal temperatures for the period.

As for rain, the Weather Bureau gave this outlook:

"Precipitation should exceed normal in the eastern quarter of the United States from Georgia northward, and along the west Gulf Coast. Subnormal amounts are anticipated in the Central Plains, western Great Lakes, and west of the Continental Divide except for the northern and southern borders. Elsewhere near normal amounts are expected."

Pencil makers estimate that pencils still do about 90 per cent of U.S. writing jobs.

Quakers To Study Question of Asking China To Join U.N.

WILMINGTON, Ohio (AP) — The Religious Society of Friends, (Quakers) will be presented today with a five-point program including acceptance of Red China into the United Nations.

E. Raymond Wilson, Washington, D. C., executive secretary of the Friends Committee on National Legislation, said he would present the program at the society's yearly meeting here. If accepted, it will become the goal of Quakers in the U. S.

Wilson said the program will:

1. Emphasize society responsibility to seek world peace by reconciling east and west in a "people to people" interchange between nations.
2. Advocate admitting all nations, including Red China, into the U. N.
3. Seek revision of the UN charter to guarantee peace by police action instead of war.
4. Call for universal disarmament.
5. Ask that "witch hunting" be stopped and civil liberties protected.

Cult To Hold Rites With Killer Snake

PINEVILLE, Ky. (AP)—As a testimonial to their faith, members of a snake-handling cult will hold services Sunday with a rattlesnake that fatally bit one of their mountain preachers.

Preacher Oscar Sutton said the killer snake will be handled by a Pentecostal Church congregation at a "big" meeting just across the Kentucky line in Virginia.

The announcement came Tuesday at the funeral near here for Lee Valentine, who died 10 hours after being bitten by the rattler during services Saturday in Ft. Payne, Ala.

Snake handling violates Kentucky and Alabama law.

Harriman Raps Farm Policies

He Says Producers Get Chief Benefits

ONEONTA, N. Y. (AP)—Gov. Averell Harriman asserted today that federal farm policies were "dominated by processors rather than by farmers." He said this was resulting in hard times for farmers while the rest of America enjoyed prosperity.

Harriman, a possible candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination next year, called for action on a national basis

In a speech for a mass meeting of dairymen here, the governor maintained that President Eisenhower's farm advisers were "most interested in their archaic theories than in the farmers' welfare."

"The situation at the present time is much too reminiscent of the 1920's," Harriman said. "Then, as now, we had good times generally in the nation. But in the midst of prosperity in the 20's we had a farm depression—and that was one of the factors that led to the general economic collapse that followed.

"I'm not suggesting such a disaster is now in sight. Nevertheless, there is grave danger to everybody in allowing the present weakness in the farm economy to continue."

Senator's Law Partner

Rotarians Hear Address On Bricker Amendment

The "Bricker Amendment" is a simple instrument designed to safeguard American rights, the Marion Rotary Club was told at its weekly meeting Tuesday noon at Hotel Harding.

John Eckler of Columbus, a member of the law firm of Bricker, Marburger, Evatt and Barton, discussed the amendment under the subject of "The Constitution and the Treaty Power" as the club's guest speaker. He served as Senator John Bricker's administrative, assistant in Washington in 1947 and 1948.

THE BRICKER Amendment, despite all the controversy about it, is a brief and clear-cut program to amend the U.S. Constitution, the speaker said. It has been reintroduced in Congress by Senator Bricker, he pointed out, is now before congressional committees and probably will be considered again after Congress reconvenes in January.

Eckler traced briefly the development of constitutional law as it affects the United States, starting with the signing of the Magna Charta in England in 1215, progressing in this country with the Declaration of Independence to the writing of the Constitution itself in 1787.

Despite the fact that the Constitution is one of the finest documents ever written, it still is a human document and has been amended 22 times to provide additional guarantees, he pointed out.

The Constitution, Acts of Congress and treaties are the three "supreme" sources of federal law, he said. But by the nature of law the last act of law in point of time normally prevails, and as the United States developed it eventually became established that a treaty can supercede the Constitution and become the supreme law of the land.

—:—

IT HAS BEEN established further, by tests in courts, that "executive agreements" between heads of states are binding, even though in conflict with the Constitution, he said.

It therefore follows, he said, that the possibility exists that Americans could, at sometime in the future, lose their constitutional liberties through executive agreements.

The major provision of the Bricker Amendment is only 65 words long and provides, in effect, that treaties and executive agreements cannot be binding if they are in conflict with the Constitution. If the amendment were adopted, the Constitution would remain the supreme law of the land, he declared.

The question resolves itself into the choice of whether Americans want a "goverment of law" or a "government of men," he concluded.

Eckler was introduced by John Bartram, a close personal friend and Rotary program chairman for August. A graduate of Ohio Wesleyan University and the University of Chicago law school, Eckler served as an officer in the U.S. Navy during World War II and joined the Bricker law firm after his release.

Introduced into the club as new members were Glenn A. Evans, manager of the Whirlpool Copr., Marion Division, and Theodore L. Hufert, director of industrial and public relations of the Whirlpool plant here. Hugh E. Webster, who proposed both men for membership, gave a short talk and welcomed them into the club.

Guests were introduced by Frank Gegenheimer.

Visiting Rotarians were E. W. Stubbs of Maywood, Ill., and Hubert J. Schroeder of Milaukee, Wis. Guests included Dr. Larry Birch, William H. Gracely and John S. Stuckey of Marion, Fred Kibbey of Mansfield, Ed Teale of Philadelphia, Pa., and W. G. Brahrnstedt of Akron.

Democratic Leader Held to Grand Jury

JACKSON, Ohio (AP)—Democratic Chairman Harold E. "Foxy" Rowe of Jackson County has been bound to the grand jury under $2,500 bond on a charge of intimidating a witness.

Justice of the Peace Emerson Gullett of nearby Oak Hill ordered the action last night after Rowe failed to appear at a preliminary hearing on the charge, filed by Edward E. Davis of Oak Hill. Rowe forfeited a $300 bond.

Davis charged Rowe sought to have Elvin McGowan, Democratic central and executive committeeman, to change his testimony in the trial of Jackson County Sheriff David L. Trago in Gallipolis. McGowan denies Rowe tried to do this.

Trial of Trago, charged with contributing to the delinquency of a 17-year-old serviceman, has been recessed until tomorrow. Testimony has not yet begun.

Caution Urged In Handling of U.S. Turncoats

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Army and Navy Union, opening its 67th annual encampment here today, will be asked to approve a resolution which urges the government to use caution in handling the cases of three "turncoat" former prisoners of war.

National Commander George F. Harnois of Needham, Mass., and the Union's Council of Administrations authorized the resolution at a meeting last night.

The three former prisoners of war once refused repatriation from a Red prison camp; later changed their minds and asked to be returned to the United States.

The proposed resolution calls for appointment of a civilian medical board to work with hte military in a study of the background of the three turncoats.

"The study might prove of invaluable help to the military in assigning men to combat duty," the resolution says. "It might show that men of certain backgrounds and temperaments would give way under the pressure and strain of war or prison life."

If evidence shows the three abused other American prisoners, "they should receive no mercy," the resolution adds.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — An "$11 bill"—genuine American money—turned up in Philadelphia today. Miss Lillian Knoff, a federal government secretary, has it. One stamp and coin dealer here said it might be worth many thousands of dollars to collectors.

20 Shots With Pistol Fail To Bring Down Big Bull

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) —A 1,300-pound Brahma bull escaped from a slaughter house Tuesday and still roamed free although hit by about 20 pistol bullets. five armed men stalked the dangerous animal until sundow and then gave up the hunt until daylight. Once it charged a television news photographer who narrowly missed being gored. A stream of pistol bullets turned the animal away.

Failure To Keep to Right Called Chief Fault of Today's Drivers

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — No. 1 fault of today's drivers?

Failure to keep to the right, says G. L. Smith, chairman of the Ohio Council of Safety Supervisors of the Ohio Trucking Assn.

Smith said: "It seems that the more unfavorable the traffic conditions, the more the average driver tends to straddle lines or use the left lane. Yet, the smooth flow of traffic is almost wholly dependent on every driver keeping within his own lane and keeping to the right except when passing or making a left turn." He added:

"The Ohio trucking industry is giving heavy emphasis to this basic driving fault in connection with its August courtesy and safety campaign."

He attributed the failure of so many drivers to keep to the right to a "combination of personal characteristics, the construction characteristics of modern automobiles and inadequacies of many streets and highways."

"In many cases," he said, "drivers appear to straddle lanes in a deliberate effort to keep following traffic from passing. But in the majority of cases, drivers either have not learned how to judge the position of their vehicle with respect to the right-hand edge of the road or else they are unwilling to devote enough attention to their driving to keep their vehicles in the proper position Most of these same drivers are the ones who are too lazy or indifferent to change lanes as the traffic situation demands. They get into the left lane and stay there, blocking traffic."

Thieves Break Into Bar, Serve Drinks, Leave With Money

BUFFALO (AP) — The regulars at Emil A. Singer's tavern in suburban Cheektowaga were delighted to find the place open Tuesday.

The tavern is normally closed Tuesday, but two cheerful young men were tending bar and serving meals to customers for nearly six hours.

Then, with the place crowded and business thriving, the bartenders suddenly vanished.

When Singer and his wife returned from a shopping trip and a movie he was informed that his "new" bartenders had walked off their jobs.

Singer told police the "bartenders" had forced open his front door and finally fled with $40 in cash plus about another $65 from over-the-bar trade.

The Return of Bus Service

The resumption of bus service in Marion Thursday comes as a welcome development after a period of 17 days without public transportation.

The bus situation has been a perplexing problem here for several years, and it is hoped that the new operation on a curtailed basis will provide a lasting answer.

Marion, like so many other cities, has been faced by the puzzle of not being able to do without the buses, or with them. The people who ride the buses need them badly, but there haven't been enough passengers to return a profit in a full-scale operation and keep it in business.

It has been the opinion in certain informed circles for some time that the answer was curtailed, or marginal, public transportation whereby only the profitable bus runs over main routes were maintained. The new operation over two principal routes only will provide the acid test for that theory.

The system won't meet with 100 per cent acclaim, naturally, since there will be complaints from those who feel the buses should run oftener and cover more territory.

But the fact remains that the operation starting tomorrow is the most practical that can be devised in view of the circumstances, and for the good of the community we extend every hope that it will prove to be a success.

Industries That Creep Away

An AFL report on subsidized industrial migration nails down these harsh truths about the reasons why manufacturers leave home.

Some are bribed by other communities in other states and areas.

Some are motivated by the opportunity to get a free ride on tax laws designed for their profit and pleasure.

Some jump at a chance to get cheaper labor.

And some simply cannot afford to pass up a crack at below-cost electrical energy furnished by the federal government. Since this is the only reason the AFL and the CIO can expect to do anything about it in a direct way, it is to be hoped they will use their combined strength to keep the federal government from using federal revenue to subsidize further industrial migration of industrial concerns. CIO and AFL members and their employers have been compelled to subsidize their own competition.

There is no way to keep localities and states from temoting industrial enterprise in all the time honored ways. But there is a way to keep the federal government from subsidizing industrial migration with under-cost power provided by federal money.

Make the federal government get out of the power business.

If the AFL and CIO got down to brass tacks on that cardinal point of creeping socialism, they would not have to be overly concerned with industries that run away from home.

If the AFL and CIO ever got down to brass tacks on what creeping socialism will do to them and their members if it creeps far enough, there will be no more creeping socialism.

Old Enough To Be New

A monumental job is being tackled this year by the subcommittee on constitutional rights of the Senate Judiciary Committee. It is going to review the Bill of Rights one guarantee at a time, until it has compiled up-to-date opinion on the basic charter of personal freedom in the United States

The information being gathered by the committee is old enough to be new to the numerous Americans who have managed to know nothing at all about the difference between them and faceless citizens of absolutist states who possess no rights whatever.

When it is considered that millions of Americans have the impression the Fifth Amendment to the U.S. Constitution is something invented by Communists to keep them from testifying before congressional committees, the Senate subcommittee's review seems long overdue.

Its first step will be to review freedom of religion, the first right named in the First Amendment. By questionnaires and testimony to be taken next October, it will evaluate the status of this guarantee before passing on to freedom of speech and press. The other guarantees in the First Amendment are freedom of assembly and petition.

The significance of the way the rights in the First Amendment are stated is rarely grasped. "Congress," the amendment says, "shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion . . . or abridging freedom of speech or of the press . . . or the right of the people to peacably assemble . . . and to petition the government."

Nothing is said about the rights being absolute and inviolable under all circumstances. Congress, however, is prohibited from interfering with them by passage of laws, and this means no other legislative body can interfere with them either. But unlike the other nine amendments, the First Amendment deals explicitly with a prohibition against legislative interference.

ADA Revives McCarthyism, Forgets Communism

Lawrence

Just about the time that almost everybody has been in a mood to lay aside "McCarthyism" as a political issue, the Americans for Democratic Action — an organization of left wing radicals who have an influential part in managing the Democratic party and picking its presidential candidates— has brought the issue back to life.

Joseph L. Rauh, Jr., national chairman of the ADA, in a public address, claims credit for his organization in initiating the fight against Sen. McCarthy, "both the man and his ism," and is exultant because, as he puts it, the Wisconsin senator is now "Washington's forgotten man."

What the ADA chief says, however in the rest of his speech indicates that he would be happy if the whole anti-Communist quest in Washington and the intensive search for security risks and disloyal employes in the government would also be forgotten.

This is what most people who have been concerned about the anti-Communist crusade, and not necessarily with any of the personalities in Congress, have feared would happen this year.

There is ample evidence that the Democratic party in Congress is very anxious to soft-pedal any further revelations concerning the Democratic administrations lest they furnish to the Republicans political ammunition for the stump.

THERE IS, as Rauh says, a difference between the atmosphere of 1953 and 1955, which are the two years contrasted by him. There is even a difference between 1955 and 1954, when the Democratic party got control of Congress.

The difference, so far as the executive branch of the government is concerned, is that the Eisenhower administration is quietly getting rid of many persons who were employed by the previous administrations and who have been found to be "security risks."

There has been no publicity as to individuals except in rare cases, but one of them operated for four years under the Truman administration and stole secrets from the confidential code office known as the National Security Agency, and turned them over to a European government. He is now in jail.

Had there been such an efficient checking job done under the Truman administration, Klaus Fuchs might not have escaped detection.

The ADA chairman speaks of 1953 and 1954 as the "era of Oppenheimer" and others, but the Republicans — and particularly Vice President Nixon, if he campaigns again — probably would like nothing better than to set all the facts from the sworn testimony in the Oppenheimer case before the American voters next time if the Democrats want to make that an issue.

THE ADA fears Nixon. Some of its supporters are behind the effort to persuade President Eisenhower to drop him from the ticket next year. The left wingers have never forgiven Nixon for what he did as a member of the House Committee on Un-American Activities to expose Alger Hiss.

There is also in the speech by Rauh an attack on Attorney General Brownell who, the speaker asserts, "appears to have been relegated to political limbo" because in November 1953 he is supposed to have accused "a former president of the United States of 'knowingly' promoting a Soviet spy."

Maybe the ADA would like to have the Harry Dexter White case relegated to "political limbo." But there are plenty of stump speakers who can still ask questions, and one of them will be why a former president of the United States, after having been warned by the head of the FBI and by officials in his own cabinet against letting the nomination of White as U. S executive director of the international monetary fund remain on the Senate calendar, not only refused to withdraw it but, over a period of 14 months, subsequently wrote two separate letters to Harry Dexter White praising him for his service.

WHEN A HOUSE committee attempted to get Truman's testimony on these points, he refused to appear. Exactly what Attorney General Brownell said in his first speech on Nov. 6, 1953, was this:

"Harry Dexter White was a Russian spy. He smuggled secret documents to Russian agents for transmission to Moscow Harry Dexter White was known to be a Communist spy by the very people who appointed him to the most sensitive and important position he ever held in government service."

Rauh forgot that only a few weeks ago the Senate internal security subcommittee, under the chairmanship of Sen. Eastland, revealed from the diary of the then secretary of the treasury facts concerning the influential part played by White in governmental affairs, though the treasury head himself knew nothing at the time about White's associations.

BROWNELL'S STATEMENT is based on FBI files. Official statements summarizing the case now are a matter of public record. It certainly will not make a good political issue for the Democratic party, even if the ADA would like to revive the controversy.

The ADA chairman also complains in his speech because the House Committee on Un-American Activities has been permitted by the Eisenhower administration to examine income-tax returns in what Rauh describes as a "drive to uncover 'secret angels' of the Communist party."

One wonders why the ADA spokesman is solicitous about the rights of "secret angels" and whether the ADA wants to proclaim a new doctrine — that the Bill of Rights supersedes or nullifies those clauses in the Constitution which authorize Congress and the executive to provide for the safety of the republic against foreign infiltration and possible treason.

Back to School

By TRUMAN TWILL

There is talk again about going back to school, and the calendar confirms the rumor.

It won't be long now until the screen door quits slamming midmorning and mid-afternoon. The biggest mass movement of human beings anywhere on earth will start when Labor Day is over.

In the meantime, there are some things about school that scarcely anyone ever bothers to mention. Everybody lately is hell-bent on things that need to be improved, at the expense of giving credit where it is due.

Someone must be doing something that is all right in history's most ambitious experiment in mass education. Along with the mistakes, which are inevitable in a project that involves so many millions of people and so many billions of dollars, there have been many times as many successes.

There are more well informed, well behaved, well adjusted juveniles in the United States per 100-000 of population than ever were here before.

There is more serious thought being applied to the problems of education by more citizens than ever was applied before.

Educators and their pupils are better housed than they ever dreamed of being housed as recently as the time just before World War II.

The educators' profession, which never had tackled anything so gigantic as mass education before, has got rid of some of the worst bugs that always creep into new projects. The progressive school, for example, has been whittled down to its proper size, and there finally is a meeting of minds on how to make sure that most children learn to read.

There are more well trained minds being produced from year to year by the school system than would have been thought possible when the systems were getting started on shoe strings and chalk nubbins.

Taxpayers throughout the country have quit fighting tooth and nail to scuttle the most important thing that can be done with tax revenue.

Teachers finally are living down the invidious comparisons between themselves and hourly-rated workers who made three or four times as much money. They are being given credit for belonging to one of the few deeply dedicated pursuits still left in the world. They are being honored for their professional attitude toward their work.

The children who went to school last year were the best and brightest up to that time. This year they will be better. Next year they will be better.

These are the things scarcely anyone mentions any more. Everybody is so engrossed in what is being done wrong in mass education that nobody takes time to be thankful for what is being done right.

Almost everything is being done right, relative to the most massive task in systematic improvement ever tackled anywhere on earth.

Oh, No, Not That

Careless With the Facts

By Raymond Moley

LOS ANGELES, On June 12, a big political meeting was held in Portland, Ore., seemingly designed to welcome that no longer lost sheep, Wayne Morse, into the Democratic fold. Ex-President Truman was there and according to a newspaper report he and the senator "gave each other sounding back-pattings during the program." This is perfectly defensable politics. But in his speech the ex-President made a statement which is reminiscent of some of his more reckless utterances when he was President:

"If you have a great plan for an entire river basin, like the plan for the Columbia, then the technique is for the federal government to give up the crucial dam sites, and get the Federal Power Commission to turn them over to private companies for piece-meal exploitation. This will block the future growth of the whole system and prevent existing dams from turning out as much power as they could."

The internal construction of those two sentences shows that, while they say something which is in itself a reckless untruth, they were not careless, off-the-cuff utterances. They are obviously aimed at the Hell's Canyon issue then before the Federal Power Commission.

Two months later the FPC has handed down its decision and in so doing has clearly proved that the Truman charge is untrue.

The "plan" to which Truman refers is a famous blueprint prepared over a period of more than 20 years by the Army Corps of Engineers. This is popularly known in the Northwest as 308. In 1948, while Truman himself was commander-in-chief, this plan was reissued by the Army under the title "Review Report on Columbia River and Tributaries." (House Document 531, 81st Congress, Second Session. If you are tempted to get this document, I suggest that it costs money, is in several volumes, will take four feet on your shelf, and is exceedingly hard reading.)

This plan is the basic source of information on the Columbia basin. But like all plans, it is in a constant process of revision.

In the many months of hearings for the Federal Power Commission on the Idaho Power Company's application for a license to build the dams on the Sanke River in Hell's Canyon, the examiner was William J. Costello who is, I believe, a holdover from the Truman administration.

The issue raised by Truman in what I have quoted was, of course, gone over time and again, and the examiner gave it full attention in his report.

Officers from the Corps of Engineers testified at length to the effect that a number of other plans for the Snake and Columbia would be the equivalent or better than the one to build the "high federal dam at Hell's Canyon. G. H. Fernald of the Corps of Engineers presented an alternative plan.

The examiner concluded that "Construction of the proposed Bruces Eddy and Penny Cliffs project on the Clearwater River, together with Pleasant Valley and Mountain Sheep projects on the Snake River below the Hells Canyon site, would provide more flood control storage in the area than was anticipated at the big dam in the Middle Snake."

That simply means that so far as the development and control of the river flow is concerned, the proposed federal dam at Hell's Canyon was only one of many possibilities and that many others will still be available despite the building of the Idaho Power Company's three dams.

That covers storage and flood control. With reference to power production, the record also shows that the Idaho Power Company's dams will produce almost as much as the federal dam would and also that there are innumerable sites left to be developed for power.

Another reference in the Truman speech no doubt has to do with the administration's proposal of partnership in the John Day dam project on the Columbia River. That project certainly does not foreclose the federal government, for the dam under the administration's plan would be built, owned, and operated by the federal government. A combination of power companies and possibly public utility districts would put up the money and buy the power.

Certainly it is not against the public interest for private money to help in the development of power for the Northwest, since there will be needed in the next 10 years an investment of about 3 billion dollars. If Truman thinks that any such money will be appropriated by Congress, then he profited little by his experience in Washington. For even the Hell's Canyon project, costing a tenth of that sum, was rejected over and over, despite all he could do to put it through.

Apparently age cannot wither Truman's infinite variety of misrepresentations.

Snakes Are Profitable

FRANKLIN, Va. (AP)—Joe Chase, a 16-year-old schoolboy, says snakes are fascinating, enjoyable and profitable.

The female members of Joe's family despise his hobby which he has pursued since the age of 9. He says he has caught thousands of snakes, harmless and dangerous, and that they bring from 50 cents to $10 each from zoos and private snake farms.

He has received help from Dr. W. M. Mann, director of the Washington, D. C., zoo and from Dr. Morris M. Cochran of the Smithsonian Institute of Natural History. They plan to get him into some leading herpetological societies to continue reptile study.

Ever bitten? By some non-dangerous snakes, yes, but only a narrow escape with a poisonous snake. A big cottonmouth moccasin struck his hand once but the fangs hit his finger nails and did not puncture the skin.

Animals Get Blame

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—State Forester Frank S. Hill, who investigates brush fires, hears all kinds of excuses.

A man accused of setting one told him: "I was burning trash in my backyard. A rabbit ran through the fire, caught fire and ran into the woods, setting them on fire."

A housewife explained another: "I threw a package of old meat in the trash I was burning. Our dog ran into the fire, grabbed the burning package, and ran off into the field, setting the brush on fire."

Medical Complaints

BANDUNG, Indonesia (AP) — From now on, the doctors in Western Java are going to get an earful.

The Priangan Doctors Association has just opened an office where patients can lodge complaints about their medical treatment or their bills.

The idea, the association said, "is to smooth relations between doctors and patients."

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Martian Visits Earth

We have received the first report from an outer space visitor to Earth. E-hnawg Ogg. Martian explorer, landed on American soil, fled rather hastily, his nerves badly shattered, and filed the following:

"Age-long desire to land on Earth achieved. Can never forgive myself. Heard reports that bumpers were further back on autos but had no idea they were THAT far back. Martian spaceship no match for American four-tone car. Did not know just where I was landing until I got within radio and TV communication range, scientifically known as yack-yack zone. Puzzled by hearing above all else the following group words:

1. — 'Who's ahead?' . . . 2. — 'It's gone!' . . . 3. — 'Enclose four box tops.' . . . 4. — 'Phone at once' . . . 'Um-m-m! That's the drink!' . . 'Removes BO.' . . . 'Send no money.' . . . 'Special offer.' . . . 'Get the large container' . . . 'Removes irritants.' . . . 'Go to your icebox now!' . . . 'Three years to pay.' . . . 'Exciting new product.'

"CONCLUDE TWO TOP national figures are named 'Beer' and 'Filter-tip,' as they were mentioned every few seconds. Name 'Beer' always accompanied by reference to something known as baseball. Natives of Earth evidently suffering from malnutrition, poor hygiene, extreme thirst and bad teeth.

"At times our spaceship was in a zone in which nothing was audible except reference to deodorants, tooth preservants and washing powders, all references being in extremely loud if not violent tones. This made me nervous about landing, but decided to take a chance

"Nearing Earth noticed great herds of motorists getting nowhere and swearing angrily at one another. Knew this must be America. Complete proof came when air seemed filled with noise of police whistles, cries of 'You and who else?' clatter of riveting machines and airwave salestalks which began every sentence with 'Yes, if you want complete satisfaction.'

"Noticed great crowds gathered at certain points Found a TV photographer had reached spot and caused intensive battle to get within range. People of America behave oddly. Make rapid movements without rhyme or reason. Males wear strange costumes. Females wear almost nothing.

"OBSERVED WIDE USE of signs all bearing words 'Detour,' 'Dead End' 'Travel at Own Risk,' 'Barbecue Grill,' 'No Parking,' 'Try Our Cheeseburgers,' 'Clearance Sale,' 'This Phone Not Working,' and 'No Left Turns.' Very baffling.

Noticed large parks with long lines of people in front of small windows all saying, 'On the nose.' Flew over large city in which could hear nothing but 'I refuse to answer.' 'May I consult counsel.' 'Make it a flat twenty per cent in cash,' 'Cheese it for Kefauver,' and 'Resignation accepted.' Must be Washington."

COMMENT ON A FELLOW whose territory was skipped by Connie: "That was no hurricane. It didn't even blow up the skirts of Marilyn Monroe enough to plug a new movie."

"The $64,000 Question" will never get anybody to shoot the works until it finds either a millionaire with a contempt for dough or a big-time gambler who can't help going for broke.

The TV baseball telecasts continue to create confusion. "Who's up this inning?" We asked in our house and got the answer, "Purity, Body and Flavor, unless they take Body out for a pinch-hitter."

Cautious Caleb is a fellow who puts up the storm shutters when he hears the weather bureau is close to picking a name for a future hurricane. . .

40 YEARS AGO — About 1,000 lives were believed to have been lost by the sinking of the British transport Royal Edward, en route to the Dardanelles, by a German submarine four days earlier, an admiralty statement in London stated.

The women of the federated clubs were to begin a simultaneous canvass of the city in the interest of next year's Chautauqua. Purpose of the house-to-house canvass was to arouse enthusiasm and enlist the people of Marion in a great rally for next year's chautauqua.

20 YEARS AGO — Final arrangements were being completed for the second annual Marion Hobby and Homecoming week which was to get under way Aug. 19, and continue through Saturday night.

10 YEARS AGO — General MacArthur curtly ordered the Japanese to comply without further delay with his directive to send emissaries to Manila.

General Spaatz disclosed that the year long operations of B-29's against Japan cost the lives of over 3,000 American fliers, while more than 600 others were rescued by naval operations. Combat operations resulted in the loss of 437 Superfortresses.

Carl Reiff, project manager of the Ferro Enamel Corp. at the Scioto Ordnance Plant, announced that the government's contract for war materials made by the corporation at its plant here had definitely been cancelled and that only workers needed for inventory work would be retained. The corporation employed 1,347 workers.

General H. H. Arnold, chief of the Army Air Forces, disclosed the U. S. Air Force had a new plane "considerably better" than the B-29 Superfortress. The new plane, he said, was capable of ranging over all east Asia from western Pacific bases.

Gen. Prince Naruhiko Higashi-Kuni was sworn in as Japan's new premier and in his first official act as premier-war-minister ordered the army to "strictly observe" an imperial order to lay down their arms.

Little Girl Captures Big Prize Spelling Whopper of Word

NEW YORK (AP)—A 12-year-old schoolgirl spelled her way into $8,000 Tuesday night by clicking off "antidisestablishmentarianism" on the CBS television show "The $64,000 Question."

Gloria Lockerman's grandmother will decide whether the junior high school student tries the $16,000 question next Tuesday or settles for the $8,000.

If she tries for the $16,000 and fails, she will receive a $4,000 college education trust fund as a consolation prize. The regular consolation prize is an expensive automobile, but the rule was altered in view of Gloria's age.

Gloria, a Negro, who finished 34th out of 62 finalists in the Nationalist Spelling Bee at Washington, D.C., last May, smiled as she picked spelling as her category on the TV show Tuesday night.

Gloria, a ninth-grade student at Booker T. Washington Junior High School, Baltimore, was accompanied on the program by her grandmother Mrs. Bertha Key, with whom she lives.

Gloria spelled coyote, dinosaur, chinchilla and hippopotamus to win an assured $512. She then moved up through $1,000 by spelling plenipotentiary, $2,000 with gingham and taffeta, and $4,000 with minuet, waltz and mazurka.

Experiments with deer show that even when plenty of food is available, they cut their consumption of food about half in winter and lose about 20 pounds in that season.

Judith A. Street Becomes Bride of John Boxwell Jr.

When Miss Judith Ann Street became the bride of John T. Boxwell Jr., Saturday evening the ceremony was in the First Evangelical and Reformed Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon L. Street of 100 Rosedale Rd. and the bridegroom's parents are Dr. and Mrs. John T. Boxwell of Harding Highway W.

Palms, baskets of white gladioli and lighted tapers in four branched candelabra decorated the altar and formed the setting for the candlelight ceremony read at 7:30 o'clock by the pastor, Rev. J. Paul Goebel. Family pews were marked with bows of satin ribbon. Music was by Mrs. Fred Sinning, organist and Miss Kay Montgomery, vocalist.

A FLOOR-LENGTH gown of white nylon tulle and Chantilly lace was worn by the bride who was given in marriage by her father. Bands of Val Chantilly lace forming an off-the-shoulder effect were topped by a sheer yoke and the brief sleeves were of lace. The bouffant skirt, fashioned of tiers of nylon tulle edged with the lace, was worn over hoops and crinoline. A Chantilly lace breton outlined in pearls held her fingertip veil of English illusion and she wore short gloves buttoned at the wrist. Her colonial bouquet, edged with tulle, held pink carnations with sprays of white baby pompons and she wore a pearl choker and matching earrings, a gift of the bridegroom.

Miss Connie Bartram was the maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Miss Barbara Clark, Miss Sally Linscott, Miss Judith Stein and Miss Marjorie Umbaugh. They wore identical gowns of petal pink crystalette. Portrait necklines fashioned of crystal pleating accented the fitted bodices and the waltz-length bouffant skirts, worn over hoops, had insets of crystal pleating which extended into bows in the back. Their matching flower tiaras had theater nose veils and completing their costumes were short white gloves. The maid of honor carried a Colonial bouquet of pink carnations and white daisy pompons centered with deep pink camellias, and the bridesmaid's bouquets were of pink carnations and white pompons.

BEST MAN FOR the bridegroom was Louis Merritt of Lincoln, Neb. and ushers were John Penry of Columbus, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, Paul Harmon of Prospect, James Saiter and James Williams.

Lighting the candles were Miss Jane Street, sister of the bride and Miss Sue Foreman. They wore gowns styled like those worn by the bride's attendants, in a grape pink shade.

The bride's mother chose a gown of seafoam green silk organza and her flowers were a corsage of pink carnations. Mrs. Boxwell was in a moss pink lace costume and wore a corsage of white carnations centered with a pink rose.

The reception was at the Marion Country Club where the assistants were Mrs. Richard L. Morgan, Mrs. John K. Bartram, Mrs. Lewis Ashworth, Mrs. John Penry, sister of the bridegroom, Miss Sally Waddell, Miss Cynthia Moore, Miss Sally Schneider and Miss Kathryn Kinsler. The receiving line was in front of the fireplace. At either end was a basket of white gladioli and the mantel piece was an arrangement of asters in two shades of pink. The bride's cake was garlanded with woods fern and pink and white daisy pompons.

When the couple left on a wedding trip to Michigan the bride was wearing a beige linen sheath dress and matching cotton lace duster. Her accessories were in a honey bear brown shade and she wore a corsage of bronze chrysanthemums. They will be at home after Sept. 10 at 819 Third St. in Ann Arbor, Mich. where both are enrolled at the University of Michigan. The bride was graduated from Harding High School this year where she was the valedictorian of her class. The bridegroom was graduated from Harding in 1953 and Kiski Preparatory School in 1954. He will take up his second year pre medical studies this fall.

TRIUMPH OVER TOOTH DECAY

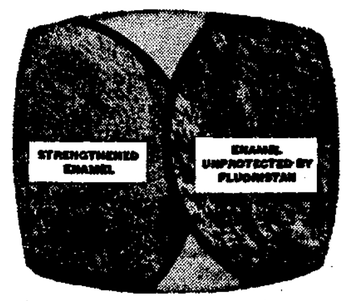
Crest Toothpaste with Fluoristan* actually strengthens tooth enamel to lock out decay

*FLUORISTAN IS FLUORIDE IN ITS MOST EFFECTIVE FORM—PREVENTS CAVITIES FOR ADULTS AS WELL AS CHILDREN

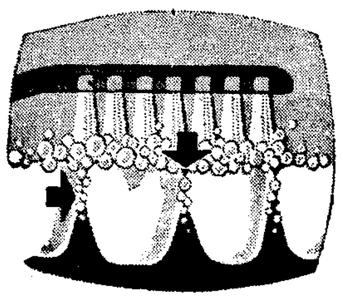
Miracle of the Towns Without Toothaches. For years, children growing up in several Western towns were virtually without tooth decay. Then science learned why: nature's decay-preventive, fluoride, was present in their drinking water!

Science Long Tried To Put Fluoride—only medically-approved preventive of decay—in a toothpaste. But merely adding fluoride does not work. At last, university scientists and Procter & Gamble discovered Fluoristan—exclusive fluoride compound.

Fluoristan Makes Possible Crest—world's greatest weapon against tooth decay. Unless you get Fluoristan, you cannot get the full benefits of fluoride in a toothpaste. Protects all permanent teeth, for adults and for children, six and over.



Actually Strengthens Enamel. Crest combines with and strengthens tooth enamel as you brush. Microphoto at left shows how enamel strengthened by Crest ingredient defies decay acids, while unprotected enamel (right) is eaten away by decay acids.



Prevents Most Cavities Where Toothbrush Can't Reach! Even between teeth, where food particles lodge (arrows), Crest gives the greatest protection ever known. Crest penetrates between teeth, strengthens enamel of entire tooth against decay.

Never Before Such Decay Prevention! Crest has been proven in the most extensive and best-documented research ever conducted on a toothpaste. The record of decay prevention established by Crest has never been equalled by any other product.

Fluoristan is Procter & Gamble's trademark for a fluoride agent.

Tastes Wonderful—Refreshes Your Breath! Crest locks out bad breath caused by decay as no other toothpaste can. Gives you cleaner, whiter teeth. Best tasting, by actual tests. Every Crest brushing strengthens enamel against decay—even more reason to brush regularly! Get Crest today!
